Winter Commencement
University of Michigan

December 15, 2013
Crisler Center
This program includes a list of the candidates for degrees to be granted upon completion of formal requirements. Candidates for graduate degrees are recommended jointly by the Executive Board of the Graduate School and the faculty of the school or college awarding the degree. Following the School of Graduate Studies, schools are listed in order of their founding. Candidates within those schools are listed by degree then by specialization, if applicable.

Dissertation Chairs

Doctoral dissertation research is conducted in consultation with a committee of faculty members selected by the candidate. The dissertation chair leads the committee and works closely with the student to guide the research. This collaboration is a fundamental relationship in the formation of scholars and so it is fitting that dissertation chairs of the doctoral graduates be asked to attend the ceremony and hood their students.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Willard L. “Sandy” Boyd

Throughout a distinguished career in law and higher education, Willard Boyd, University of Iowa president emeritus and the Rawlings-Miller Professor of Law and president emeritus of the Field Museum of Natural History, has exemplified the value of a University of Michigan education. A native of St. Paul, Minnesota, Professor Boyd holds B.S.L. and LL.B. degrees from the University of Minnesota and an LL.M. degree and S.J.D., both from the University of Michigan. He practiced law before joining the College of Law faculty at the University of Iowa in 1954 and served in several leadership roles prior to his appointment as university president from 1969 to 1981. He also served as interim president in 2002 and 2003. A champion of diversity and access to higher education for all, Professor Boyd is known for his mindful attentiveness to and interest in the ideas and concerns of others and an ability to balance firmness with humor. As a result, he enjoyed a constructive dialogue with students throughout his tenure, including during the early 1970s, when students protested the Vietnam War at Iowa and other college campuses. He was equally effective as president of the Field Museum from 1981 to 1996, where he worked to make the museum a place of learning for all Chicagoans and a centerpiece of Chicago’s great urban renovation through creation of a remarkable museum campus encompassing the Adler Planetarium, the Field Museum, and the Shedd Aquarium. He received the Thomas and Eleanor Wright Award given by the Chicago Commission on Human Relations for making the Field Museum a place where people of different backgrounds come together for a common reason. The Field Museum also received the National Award for Museum Service from the Institute of Museum Services. Among other honors, Professor Boyd has received the National Endowment for the Humanities’ Charles Frankel Prize, Humanities Iowa’s Award for Lifetime Services to the Public Humanities, and the Iowa City Human Rights Commission Lifetime Achievement Award. After retiring from the Field Museum, he returned to the Iowa faculty, where he teaches nonprofit law and management and chairs the Lamed A. Waterman Iowa Nonprofit Resource Center, which he cofounded in 2000. Professor Boyd is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the American Law Institute. He has served as chair of the American Association of Universities, the National Museum Services Board, the Council of the Section on Legal Education and Admission to the Bar of the American Bar Association, and the Harry S. Truman Library Institute. He has advanced the arts in many ways, including as a member of the National Council on the Arts, National Arts Strategies, Illinois Arts and Humanities Councils, Humanities Iowa, and the Advisory Board of the Chicago Department of Cultural Affairs.

Professor Boyd, you are a remarkable Michigan alumnus and exemplary citizen of our nation and the world. The University of Iowa and American higher education in general, the Field Museum, the arts and humanities, and nonprofits throughout the Midwest and beyond are stronger and more vibrant today due to your vision, leadership, and steadfast service. The University of Michigan is proud to present to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws.
William I. Higuchi

William Higuchi, professor emeritus of pharmaceutics and pharmaceutical chemistry at the University of Utah and a former University of Michigan faculty member, is internationally recognized for his pioneering contributions to the science of drug formulation and delivery. Born in San Jose, California, he earned two degrees in chemistry, a B.A. from San Jose State College in 1952 and a Ph.D. from the University of California, Berkeley, in 1956. He worked as a researcher in his brother Takeru Higuchi’s University of Wisconsin laboratory and at the California Research Corporation before joining the Wisconsin faculty, where he taught and conducted research for several years. A U-M faculty member from 1962 to 1982, Dr. Higuchi rose rapidly through the professorial ranks in the School of Dentistry and the College of Pharmacy, where he was the Albert B. Prescott Professor of Pharmacy. He fostered a collaborative relationship between U-M and Japan’s pharmaceutical industry that continues to thrive today. Dr. Higuchi left Michigan in 1982 to lead the University of Utah Department of Pharmaceutics and Pharmaceutical Chemistry, which he chaired until 1997. He continued as a distinguished professor at Utah until he retired in 2007. His many fundamental contributions include an understanding of how drug molecules are transported, which led to seminal advances in transdermal and gastrointestinal drug delivery. He also clarified the physical chemical process involved in dental caries and fluoride’s role in cavity prevention, and the physical chemistry of cholesterol gallstone formation and dissolution. He has published 450 peer-reviewed publications, book chapters, and reviews, and served as editor of the International Journal of Pharmaceutics and the Journal of Pharmaceutical Sciences. He has mentored more than 200 graduate students and postdoctoral fellows, many now leaders in the field. Dr. Higuchi co-founded or founded several pharmaceutical companies, including Theratech, Inc., and is co-founder and chair of Lipocine, Inc. Dr. Higuchi continues to serve as a consultant and thought leader for governments, nonprofit organizations, and pharmaceutical companies. He has received numerous honors, including the American Association of Pharmaceutical Scientists (AAPS) Dale E. Wurster Award, the first AAPS Research Achievement Award in Pharmaceutics and Drug Delivery, the Utah Governor’s Medal for Science and Technology, and the Lifetime Achievement in Pharmaceutical Sciences Award from the International Pharmaceutical Federation. U-M’s College of Pharmacy hosted the symposium “Physical Chemistry in the Age of Molecular and Cellular Biology” in Dr. Higuchi’s honor in 2010. As an adviser to the Heart Mountain Wyoming Foundation, he and his late wife Setsuko Higuchi played key roles in preserving and restoring the Heart Mountain Relocation Center in Wyoming, where both were interned as children during World War II. In 2012, Dr. Higuchi received Japan’s Order of the Rising Sun for his outstanding work in pharmaceutical sciences and his role in promoting Japan–United States cooperation.

Dr. Higuchi, in a long and distinguished academic career you helped create and shape the field of pharmaceutics. You have developed novel drug delivery systems, inspired large numbers of graduate students and postdoctoral fellows, and fostered many productive partnerships in the United States and internationally, all while adhering to the highest standards of scientific integrity and cooperation. The University of Michigan is proud to present to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Science.
Award-winning journalist Michele Norris-Johnson is one of the most highly regarded journalists reporting on major social issues of our time. Ms. Norris-Johnson, host of National Public Radio’s (NPR) newsmagazine All Things Considered from 2002 to 2011, is now an NPR guest host and special correspondent. Her reporting goes after the “why” as she plumbs cultural and social depths to illuminate the ideas and attitudes that shape current events. Born in Minneapolis, Minnesota, she studied engineering at the University of Wisconsin and journalism at the University of Minnesota, where she wrote for the student newspaper and earned a B.A. degree. She worked at the Los Angeles Times, Chicago Tribune, and The Washington Post before joining ABC News in 1993, where she reported extensively on education, inner city issues, drugs, and poverty. She was part of the ABC team that won an Emmy and a Peabody Award for coverage of the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks. At NPR, Ms. Norris-Johnson covered the 2008 presidential campaign, including the Republican and Democratic conventions. She co-hosted public radio’s Democratic presidential candidate debate, moderated a series of conversations with voters about race and politics, and co-anchored election night coverage. In 2011, she took a leave of absence from NPR when her husband, Broderick Johnson, joined President Barack Obama’s re-election campaign. During her leave, she devoted herself to the Race Card Project, which invites participants to distill their thoughts about race, ethnicity, and identity into six-word stories and has received more than 30,000 contributions. U-M was the first university to partner with Ms. Norris-Johnson on the project. Supported by a King-Chavez-Parks Visiting Professorship, she spent many hours interacting with students and faculty as part of the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts’ Understanding Race theme semester. As keynote speaker at U-M’s 26th annual Martin Luther King, Jr. Symposium in 2012, Ms. Norris-Johnson spoke eloquently about the power of quiet activism, sharing lessons she uncovered about her own family’s experience in Alabama and Minneapolis while researching her book The Grace of Silence: A Memoir (2010). Ms. Norris-Johnson, who won the prestigious Livingston Award for Young Journalists while she was a reporter for The Washington Post, has since served on the Livingston Award judging committee and currently is a member of the University of Michigan’s Knight-Wallace Fellowship Board. A frequent guest on Meet the Press, she has won numerous awards, including sharing an Alfred I. duPont-Columbia University Award with NPR host Steve Inskeep for their 2008 election coverage. The National Association of Black Journalists presented its Salute to Excellence Award to her in 2006 for her coverage of Hurricane Katrina and honored her as Journalist of the Year in 2009 for her body of work. She also was listed among Essence magazine’s 25 Most Influential Black Americans in 2009 and is a University of Minnesota Outstanding Achievement Award recipient.

Ms. Norris-Johnson, as one of our nation’s most acclaimed journalists, you are respected for your integrity, your skills as an interviewer and reporter, and your steadfast commitment to understanding and celebrating America’s diversity. Millions of citizens turn to you for accurate accounts of the news and its ramifications. The University of Michigan is pleased to recognize your many contributions and delighted to welcome you back to campus to award you the honorary degree, Doctor of Humane Letters.
Honorary Degree Recipient

David Satcher

Dr. Satcher will receive his honorary degree at the University of Michigan-Flint’s Winter Commencement on December 15, 2013.

David Satcher, the 16th surgeon general of the United States, a four-star admiral in the U.S. Public Health Service Commissioned Corps, and a leader in academic medicine, has devoted his life to improving the nation’s health. Born in Anniston, Alabama, Dr. Satcher was elected to the Phi Beta Kappa honor society and received a B.S. degree in biology from Morehouse College in 1963. He studied cytogenetics at Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine, where he earned M.D. and Ph.D. degrees in 1970. After completing a residency at Strong Memorial Hospital at the University of Rochester Medical Center, he worked at the King/Drew Sickle Cell Center in Los Angeles, served as interim dean at the Charles R. Drew University of Medicine and Science, opened and directed a free clinic in the Los Angeles area, and taught epidemiology at the University of California, Los Angeles, School of Medicine. In 1979, Dr. Satcher moved to Atlanta to chair the Morehouse School of Medicine Department of Community Medicine and Family Practice, where he prepared doctors to practice in poor, underserved rural and urban areas. In 1982, he was appointed president of the then-struggling Meharry Medical College in Nashville, Tennessee, and chief executive officer of the hospital associated with Meharry. There he launched innovative programs and founded the Journal on Health Care for the Poor and Underserved. Meharry experienced a dramatic turnaround under his leadership. In 1993, President Bill Clinton appointed Dr. Satcher director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and administrator of the Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry. He expanded the CDC’s focus from infectious diseases to preventive care and was instrumental in launching the Detroit Community-Academic Research Center, a partnership between U-M’s schools of Public Health, Nursing, and Social Work, the city of Detroit, and community-based organizations. Appointed surgeon general and assistant secretary for health in the Department of Health and Human Services in 1998, Dr. Satcher issued the first-ever surgeon general’s report on mental, oral, and sexual health, and obesity. Since stepping down as surgeon general in 2002, he has directed the National Center for Primary Care and the Center of Excellence on Health Disparities at Morehouse School of Medicine. He also is founding director of Morehouse’s Satcher Health Leadership Institute and sits on the boards of Johnson & Johnson and MetLife. Dr. Satcher has received numerous honors, including the Public Health Service Distinguished Service Medal, the Sickle Cell Disease Research Foundation Founders’ Award of Distinction, the Breslow Award in Public Health, the Martin Luther King, Jr. Drum Major for Justice Award, and the New York Academy of Medicine Lifetime Achievement Award. He also received the Jimmy and Rosalynn Carter Humanitarian Award from the National Foundation for Infectious Diseases and many honorary degrees. He is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the Institute of Medicine, and the National Academy of Sciences.

Dr. Satcher, as one of our country’s most influential physicians and health educators and a leader in academic medicine, you have focused on the health needs of the most vulnerable members of society and have inspired a new generation of dedicated doctors to follow your example. In recognition of your lifetime of scholarship and heroic service and your outstanding contributions to public health, the University of Michigan is proud to present to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Science.
Michigan State University (MSU) President Lou Anna Simon is one of the nation's most persuasive promoters of the role of universities in applying knowledge to benefit society and advance the global common good. She has led MSU in a strategic and transformative journey to adapt the principles of its land-grant tradition to 21st century challenges. Through MSU’s example, presented in her monograph, Embracing the World Grant Ideal: Affirming the Morrill Act for a Twenty-first-century Global Society (2009), Dr. Simon is inspiring other universities to be catalysts for change and social development. Born in Sullivan, Indiana, and the first in her family to attend college, Dr. Simon earned a B.A. degree in mathematics in 1969 and an M.A. degree in student personnel and counseling in 1970, both from Indiana State University. After earning a doctorate in administration and higher education from MSU in 1974, she began her career as assistant director of the university’s Office of Institutional Research. An outstanding teacher and administrator, she taught courses on evaluation, planning, and budgeting, and served in many leadership roles, including as MSU’s associate provost, provost, vice president for academic affairs, and interim president. In 2005, MSU’s sesquicentennial, Dr. Simon was named the university’s 20th president. Her leadership is grounded in deep knowledge of higher education and guided by her core values of quality, inclusion, and connectivity. Dr. Simon works diligently to create a fair and hospitable campus that welcomes and respects a wide range of people. She also is committed to expanding MSU’s research in areas that protect and enhance quality of life, including clean and affordable energy, access to education, safe and plentiful food and water, and health care. Among her many accomplishments was the selection of Michigan State as the site of the national Facility for Rare Isotope Beams, scheduled for completion in 2022. In partnership with U-M and Wayne State University, Dr. Simon launched the state’s University Research Corridor and has collaborated with U-M on other issues related to economic development and higher education policy. She serves on the boards of directors of Business Leaders for Michigan and the Detroit Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. Her insistence on evidence-based decision making has dramatically altered discussions within Michigan and nationally, particularly at the National Collegiate Athletic Association, where she chairs the executive committee. She is a member of the executive committee of the Council on Competitiveness, which works to ensure United States prosperity, and serves on the American Council on Education, the Association of American Universities Internationalization Committee, the Council on Foreign Relations Higher Education Working Group on Global Issues, and the Partnership to Cut Hunger and Poverty in Africa executive committee. She also chairs the National Security Higher Education Advisory Board.

Dr. Simon, as president of one of the nation’s great research universities and an international leader in higher education, you are admired for your vision, dedication, and collaborative spirit. You have enhanced Michigan State University’s reputation globally for outstanding teaching, research, public service, and contributions to economic development. In appreciation of your deep and long-standing commitment to MSU, the state of Michigan, and American higher education, the University of Michigan is proud to present to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws.
Honorary Degree Recipient

Helen Zell

Helen Zell, University of Michigan alumnus and executive director of the Zell Family Foundation, has profoundly influenced the University by naming the Helen Zell Writers’ Program, one of the top master of fine arts (MFA) programs in creative writing in the country. She also supports the city of Chicago’s educational and cultural institutions through her generous gifts. Ms. Zell, who was born in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, earned a bachelor of arts degree in English literature from the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts in 1964. Her Michigan involvement includes serving in the President’s Advisory Group and as honorary co-chair of the National Campaign Leadership Cabinet for the Michigan Difference Campaign. With gifts of $10 million in 2004 and more than $50 million in 2013, the largest donation in LSA history, Ms. Zell has helped the MFA program evolve into one of the nation’s top writing programs. In addition to creating the first endowed professorship in English, recently renamed the Nicholas Delbanco Visiting Professorship, she started the Helen Zell Graduate Student Support Fund, whereby she multiplied the number of graduate student fellowships for MFA students. Her visionary Helen Zell Post-MFA Writing Fellowships—known in LSA as “Zellowships”—provide graduating students a crucial third year of financial support to allow them to complete their books and seek publication. Thanks to the Zell Visiting Writers Series, U-M students and members of the community enjoy opportunities to interact with today’s most influential emerging and established writers. Through her co-curricular program support, the Helen Zell Writers’ Program offers students internship opportunities in editing, publishing, and community arts organizations such as 826michigan and the InsideOut Literary Arts Project, as well as symposia, including the Business of Writing, which brings writers and publishing industry professionals together to discuss current challenges in the writing business and innovate creative solutions. The University has recognized Ms. Zell previously for philanthropy with a Burton Society Award. In Chicago, Ms. Zell serves on the board of the Ounce of Prevention Fund, a nonprofit that invests in the healthy development of at-risk children and their families through birth-to-five programs, research, training, advocacy, and the development of educational models and materials to reduce the academic achievement gap. As vice chair of the Chicago Public Education Fund board, Ms. Zell has participated in efforts to raise and invest more than $25 million in Chicago Public Schools to improve student achievement and teacher accountability. She is a trustee and past chair of the Museum of Contemporary Art board; her commitment to the museum is reflected by 30 years of involvement and financial support exceeding $25 million. She also is a trustee of the Steppenwolf Theatre Company and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

Helen Zell, as one of America’s most visionary philanthropic leaders, you are an exemplar of the values of a U-M liberal arts education. Through your investments in programs to help preschoolers to graduate students recognize and achieve their potential, your support of creative writing, and your patronage of the arts, you are changing lives, nurturing a new generation of writers, and enriching our nation’s literary and cultural landscape. The University of Michigan is proud to present to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Humane Letters.

The University Mace

The University’s mace, a symbol of authority, is carried at the head of academic processions on such important ceremonial occasions as commencements, convocations, and inaugurations. The mace being used today was given to the University in 1968 by the Senior Board, representing all the undergraduate schools and colleges. Crafted of red oak and trimmed with silver, the mace features the seals of the University and of the State of Michigan. Also engraved on the mace are the names of the University Presidents.

Academic Dress and Custom

The colorful gowns and hoods worn by faculty members at commencement and other academic ceremonies represent the degrees, disciplines, and alma maters of the wearers. The American academic costume tradition, imported from England, dates to Colonial days.

Gowns

Bachelor’s or master’s degree gowns traditionally are black, as are many doctoral gowns in the United States. Some universities prescribe that their graduates wear gowns of another solid color such as blue, crimson, or green. Gowns differ in sleeve cut and trim. For example, the bachelor’s gown has long, pointed sleeves while the master’s gown has oblong sleeves. Doctoral gowns, with their distinctive bell-shaped sleeves, feature velvet panels down the front and around the neck, as well as crossbars of velvet on the sleeves. Colored trim denotes the field or discipline in which the degree was earned. Usually only a single degree from one institution is indicated by a garment. If more than one degree is held, the gown and hood of the higher or highest degree usually are worn.

Hoods

The hood most precisely describes the wearer’s level of degree earned, the major field of learning, and the alma mater. The level of the degree held is indicated by the hood’s shape and size and the width of its velvet or velveteen trimming. The bachelor’s, master’s, and doctor’s hoods are 36 inches, 42 inches, and 48 inches long, respectively. The velvet trim is two, three, and five inches wide, with the narrowest being for the bachelor’s hood and the widest for the doctor’s hood. The color of trim on the hood, as on the gown, identifies the major field of learning in which the degree was awarded. The hood is lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree.

Caps

Caps vary in style from the traditional black mortarboard to eight-, six-, and four-corner tams, and Elizabethan-style caps. The mortarboard may be of any appropriate material, such as cotton, poplin, rayon, or silk, to match the gown. Velvet is reserved for holders of doctorates.
Schools and Colleges of the University

The order of presentation is by the year of founding.

College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

The College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, founded in 1841, was the first duly constituted college of the University of Michigan. Today, with more than 15,000 undergraduate and 2,000 graduate students, LSA is the largest of the university’s schools and colleges, and it is still the heart of the campus. Distinguished in the humanities since its earliest years, the college became preeminent in the natural sciences during the early 20th century and went on to become a world leader in social science research. The college has always been dedicated to providing a richly diverse liberal arts education that prepares students to lead fulfilling lives as responsible citizens within a wide range of professional careers.

Medical School

Since opening its doors in 1850, the Medical School has been a leader in medical education, patient care, and biomedical research. In addition to its professional doctor of medicine program, the Medical School offers master’s and doctoral degrees in the basic medical sciences. The school established the nation’s first university-owned and operated teaching hospital and created the first departments of pharmacology and human genetics in the United States. It also played an important role in the development of the electrocardiogram and in the development of iodized salt as a goiter preventive. The Medical School was among the first major American medical schools to graduate women and African Americans; today there are more practicing M.D.s from the University of Michigan than from any other medical school in the United States.

Law School

Founded in 1859, the Law School awarded its first bachelor of laws degrees in 1860. In 1870, the school became the second in the nation to confer a law degree on an African American candidate and the first major law school to admit a woman. In 1871, one of the school’s graduates became the first woman with a law degree to be admitted to the bar. A national law school from its earliest years, the school’s graduates work in every state of the Union and in more than 73 countries, in business, as practitioners and professors, as legislators and members of Congress, and as distinguished civil servants and members of the judiciary.

School of Dentistry

Established in 1875, the School of Dentistry first granted the professional degree, doctor of dental surgery, the following year. A national leader in the training of professional dentists and long active in oral and craniofacial research, the school offers the doctor of dental surgery, master’s degrees, and graduate clinical programs in several dental specialties and general dentistry. A doctoral degree is offered in oral health sciences and in an interdepartmental program in biomaterials. The School of Dentistry also offers baccalaureate and master’s programs in dental hygiene.

College of Pharmacy

Established as a department in 1868, Pharmacy became a college in 1876, the first in any university in the United States. Today, the college has an average annual enrollment of 260 doctor of pharmacy and 70 graduate students, and is consistently ranked among the top pharmacy schools in the nation. The college offers the doctor of pharmacy degree; baccalaureate programs in medicinal chemistry and pharmaceutical sciences; and doctor of philosophy programs in medicinal chemistry, pharmaceutical sciences, and social and administrative sciences. Major areas of research include the biological, chemical, clinical, genomic, economic, and social aspects of drugs and therapeutic agents.
Instruction began with a class in civil engineering in 1854. Historically, the College of Engineering has been a leader in establishing departments in emerging fields, including metallurgical engineering, naval architecture and marine engineering, electrical engineering, chemical engineering, aeronautical engineering, nuclear engineering, and computer engineering. Today, the college and its 60,000 alumni provide leadership in various technologies, healthcare, business, and the sciences, improving the quality of people's lives around the world.

The Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies oversees and coordinates graduate education, bringing together graduate students and faculty from across the institution to experience and take full advantage of the university as a scholarly community. The university awarded its first master of arts degree in 1849, first master of science degree in 1859, and first doctor of philosophy degree in 1876. Organized as a department in 1892, the School of Graduate Studies became an autonomous unit in 1913. In 1935, a generous gift from Horace H. and Mary A. Rackham included the site and construction of the Rackham Building for graduate studies and a substantial endowment for carrying on graduate work and research.

Michigan offered its first courses in architecture in 1876. The program became a department in 1913, and by 1931, the College of Architecture was established as a separate entity. During the 1940s, the college was one of the few schools in the country to consider research a necessary part of architectural education, and in 1946 it became the first to introduce a graduate program in urban planning. The college offers master of architecture, master of urban planning, and master of urban design degrees; bachelor of science and master of science degrees in architecture; and doctoral programs in architecture and in urban and regional planning. In 1999, the college was named in honor of A. Alfred Taubman, founder and chairman of The Taubman Company, Inc., and a longtime friend, supporter, and adviser to the college.

The School of Education was founded in 1921, 42 years after the university established the first chair in any United States collegiate institution devoted to the “science and art of teaching.” The school prepares students for professional careers in teaching and administration, and offers advanced training for researchers and practitioners at all levels of education. Teacher diplomas were first offered in 1874; the first master's degree in education was conferred in 1891, the first Ph.D. in 1902, and the first Ed.D. in 1938.

Building on faculty and course offerings that began in the latter part of the 19th century, the school was formally established in 1924. Today, at all levels of instruction—bachelor’s, master’s, doctoral, and executive education—its programs rank in the top five among American institutions. Each year nearly 1,000 new School of Business graduates enter careers as business professionals and teacher-scholars, joining the approximately 37,000 who already serve in leadership positions in business, government, and academic institutions throughout the world.

The School of Natural Resources and Environment’s overarching objective is to contribute to the protection of the Earth’s resources and the achievement of a sustainable society. Through research, teaching, and outreach, faculty, staff, and students are devoted to generating new knowledge and developing policies, techniques, and skills to help practitioners manage and conserve natural resources to meet the full range of human needs on a sustainable basis. The school jointly administers the undergraduate Program in the Environment, and it offers master's and doctoral programs in ecological, social, and design sciences.
School of Music, Theatre & Dance

The Regents appointed the first professor of music in 1879. One of the oldest and largest schools of music in the United States, the school ranks among the top conservatories and schools of music in the country. Degrees are offered at the bachelor’s, master’s, and doctoral levels in nearly all fields of music, dance, and theater. The school’s mission is to keep an exuberant and undiluted love of the arts as a vivid motivation among all who are associated with it while striving to prepare specialists who are knowledgeable and well-rounded musicians, music educators, dancers, and theater artists.

School of Nursing

The School of Nursing has held an unsurpassed reputation of excellence for more than 100 years. It has been a national leader in the advancement of nursing knowledge and the promotion of new trends in health care. The school’s baccalaureate programs include a four-year B.S.N. program, a second career nursing program, and an R.N.-B.S.N. completion program. At the master’s level, the School of Nursing, through the Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies, offers advanced study in clinical specialist, nurse practitioner, and management roles. The school’s prestigious Ph.D. and postdoctoral programs prepare nurse scientists to develop the knowledge necessary to support and advance nursing practice.

School of Public Health

The history of the School of Public Health dates back to 1881, when the first course in sanitary science was taught in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts. Established in 1941, the school has awarded master of public health, master of science, master of health services administration, and doctor of public health degrees to more than 13,000 students. Doctor of philosophy programs were established in 1947 and now include concentrations in biostatistics, environmental health sciences, epidemiology, health behavior and health education, and health management and policy. Key areas of research include vaccine development, air and water quality, reproductive and women’s health, and health care costs, quality, and access.

School of Social Work

The program in social work began in 1921, and was granted the status of a school in 1951. Faculty maintain high research productivity while teaching an innovative curriculum. At the master’s level, the school prepares professional practitioners for work with individuals, children and their families, the aged, organizations, and communities. Students may focus their studies in the fields of substance abuse, mental health, education, child welfare, program evaluation, and public policy. The joint doctoral program in social work and social science is one of a kind and prepares students for academic and research careers. Graduates of both programs are found in leadership positions around the world. The School of Social Work consistently ranks as one of the best in the nation.

School of Information

A formal program began in 1926, when the Department of Library Science was created in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts. In 1948, offerings became entirely graduate and a doctoral program was inaugurated. Establishment of an independent school, committed to the interdisciplinary study of information and library principles, came in 1969. In response to the rapid change brought on by present technology, the school broadened significantly further in the 1990s. It now pursues a highly interdisciplinary approach to educate professionals who will serve as leaders in the information age. Recognizing this broader mission, the school was renamed the School of Information in 1996.
The Penny W. Stamps School of Art and Design traces its history at the University to visual arts education in the late 19th century, awarding its first degree in 1960, and becoming a University of Michigan school in 1974. In 2002, the school launched a unique curriculum that prompted the National Association of Schools of Art and Design to report, "The School of Art and Design and the University of Michigan have created an opportunity to lead the academic conversation in art and design in this country." The school prepares graduates for a broad range of creative professions through its undergraduate and graduate programs. Commitment to the integration of art and design, community engagement, international experience, connections to the academic resources of the University, interdisciplinary pursuit, and public presentation of creative work are required of all majors.

Kinesiology has been part of the University of Michigan curriculum since the turn of the 20th century and joined the ranks for the schools and colleges as an independent unit in 1984. Concentrations have the common thread of human movement and span a wide range including movement science, physical education, sport management, and athletic training. Kinesiology prepares undergraduates for careers as diverse as medicine and physical therapy to athletic administration, marketing, and law. Master's and doctoral students expand their opportunities in higher education, research, health care, public health or medicine, business and law.

The School of Public Policy prepares graduates for distinguished careers in policy analysis and management, and promotes improved public policy through research. Its curriculum combines rigorous grounding in contemporary social science, opportunities to develop expertise in a variety of policy domains, and practical experience. Graduates work in government and the private and nonprofit sectors, using their knowledge, judgment, and new ideas to solve social problems, both domestic and international. The school traces its history to the Institute of Public Administration, established in 1914 as one of the first programs in municipal administration in the United States. In 1999, the Regents approved the naming of the school in honor of Gerald R. Ford, the 38th President of the United States and a 1935 graduate of the University.

Candidates for Degrees and Certificates

The following is a list of the candidates for degrees to be granted upon completion of formal requirements. A candidate is listed alphabetically by degree, and in some cases also by field of specialization, under the school or college which awards the degree. In the commencement ceremony, candidates are presented in the order of which their respective schools or colleges were founded. The Executive Board of the Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies awards doctoral, master's, and some graduate professional degrees (e.g., master of public policy, master of urban planning), although most graduate professional degrees, such as doctor of medicine, master of social work, etc., are awarded by the respective schools or colleges. The Graduate School does not offer course work, and advanced studies are conducted within the school or college of a candidate’s area of specialization.

This program presents as complete and accurate a record of candidates for degrees as is possible as of the publication date.

Doctor of Philosophy

Adam Chaim Sales, Field of Specialization: Statistics. Dissertation: New Perspectives on Regression Adjustment in Causal Inference, with Applications to Educational Program Evaluation.

Blair Calder Sutton, Field of Specialization: Neuroscience. Dissertation: The Role of Sleep and Cytokines in the Development of Mechanical Hypersensitivity in a Mouse Model of Musculoskeletal Sensitization.

Nabihah Tayob, Field of Specialization: Biostatistics. Dissertation: Restricted Mean Analysis Across Multiple Follow-up Intervals.

Lai Sze Tso, Field of Specialization: Women’s Studies and Sociology. Dissertation: “Making It” In China: Why Young Rural Women Climb the Ladder by Moving into China’s Cities.

Peter Joseph Valdez, Field of Specialization: Chemical Engineering. Dissertation: Hydrothermal Liquefaction of Microalgae and Other Microorganisms: Developing a Kinetic Model.

Meghan Elizabeth Wagner, Field of Specialization: Earth and Environmental Sciences. Dissertation: Silver as a Novel Tracer for Late Quaternary Southern Ocean Biological and Geophysical Processes.
Doctor of Philosophy

Gerwin Henri Westfield, Field of Specialization: Biological Chemistry. Dissertation: Molecular Electron Microscopy of Signaling Protein Complexes.

Jonathan Ralph Whicher, Field of Specialization: Chemical Biology. Dissertation: Structural and Biochemical Investigation of Substrate Recognition and Shuttling in Natural Product Biosynthesis.

Ji Yeon Yang, Field of Specialization: Information. Dissertation: A Dual-Perspective Approach to Understanding Collegial Information Mediation in the Workplace.

Benjamin Tong Yee, Field of Specialization: Nuclear Engineering and Radiological Sciences. Dissertation: Spectroscopic Investigation of a Repetitively-Pulsed Nanosecond Discharge.

Geng Yu, Field of Specialization: Molecular, Cellular and Developmental Biology. Dissertation: Two Methylketone Biosynthetic Enzymes from Wild Tomatoes.

The following is a list of candidates granted degrees in August 2013.
Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies

Founded in 1912, Janet A. Weiss, Dean and Vice Provost for Academic Affairs–Graduate Studies

Doctor of Musical Arts

David Michael Biedenbender, Field of Specialization: Music Composition. Dissertation: Dreams in the Dusk (Concerto for Saxophone and Wind Ensemble).
Matthew Ross Brower, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Amanda Nicole Cantu, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
George Edward Case IV, Field of Specialization: Conducting (Choral).
Stijn De Cock, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Andreas Eggertsberger, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Ellen Breakfield Glick, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Pia Eva Greiner, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Mark Edgar D. Latham, Field of Specialization: Conducting (Orchestral).
Jin Hwa Lee, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Steven Andrew McGhee, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Elliot Hansen Moore, Field of Specialization: Conducting (Orchestral).
Jani Ann Parsons, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Juan Hector Pereira, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Subaram Shankar Raman, Field of Specialization: Music Composition. Dissertation: She/He.
Eric De Rutherford, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Yaniv Segal, Field of Specialization: Conducting (Orchestral).
Timothy James Tikker, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Kathryn Louise Tremills, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Su-Fan Yiu, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Matthew Elliot Zalkind, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.

Doctor of Philosophy

Amjad Abu Jbara, Field of Specialization: Computer Science and Engineering. Dissertation: Using Natural Language Processing to Mine Multiple Perspectives from Social Media and Scientific Literature.
Doctor of Philosophy

Aaron James Armbruster, Field of Specialization: Physics. Dissertation: Discovery of a Higgs Boson with the ATLAS Detector.

Jeffrey Scott Bednar, Field of Specialization: Business Administration. Dissertation: Legacies in Organizations.

Emily Joy Bembeneck, Field of Specialization: Classical Studies. Dissertation: The Princess is in Another Castle: Multi-Linear Stories in Oral Epic and Video Games.

Jill Elena Bennett, Field of Specialization: Psychology. Dissertation: Social Class Identity: The Role of Identity Changeability Perceptions on the Relationship between Beliefs about Intelligence and Stereotype-Relevant Outcomes.

Nicholas Alexander Block, Field of Specialization: Germanic Language and Literature. Dissertation: In the Eyes of Others: The Dialectics of German-Jewish and Yiddish Modernisms.

Efrat Bloom, Field of Specialization: Comparative Literature. Dissertation: This Place of Poetry: Writing, Displacement, and the Poetics of the Mother Tongue in H. Leyvik, Paul Celan, and Sargon Boulus.

Andrew Jonathan Bozio, Field of Specialization: English Language and Literature. Dissertation: Ecologies of Thought in Early Modern English Drama.

Doctor of Philosophy

Elizabeth Christine Buvinger, Field of Specialization: Psychology. Dissertation: Measuring Internalizing Symptomatology in Children, Adolescents, and Young Adults with Autism Spectrum Disorders.
Diane Mary Calinski, Field of Specialization: Pharmacology. Dissertation: Oxazaphosphorine Metabolism by the Human Cytochrome P450s and Some Commonly Expressed P450 Polymorphic Variants.
Siyan Cao, Field of Specialization: Biological Chemistry. Dissertation: Endoplasmic Reticulum Stress in Intestinal Epithelial Cells and Inflammatory Bowel Disease.
Sara Bondi Cassidy, Field of Specialization: Microbiology and Immunology. Dissertation: The Role of Caspase-7 during Infection with Listeria monocytogenes and during Intoxication with Listeriolsisin O.
Bing Chen, Field of Specialization: Economics. Dissertation: Three Essays on Home Equity, Mortgage Distress, Consumption, and Assets Management during the Financial Crisis
Andrew Patrick Chervenak, Field of Specialization: Cellular and Molecular Biology. Dissertation: The Role of Zic Genes During Inner Ear Development in the Mouse.
Wei-Chung Chiang, Field of Specialization: Molecular and Integrative Physiology. Dissertation: Genes That Link the Insulin/IGF-like Signaling Pathway to Stress Response.
Doctor of Philosophy

Cathleen Elizabeth Clerkin, Field of Specialization: Psychology. Dissertation: Creative We Stand: Exploring the Links between American National Identity, Multicultural Exposure and Creativity.

Erika Nicole Cline, Field of Specialization: Cellular and Molecular Biology. Dissertation: Interactions Between Nanoparticles and Biological Charged Lines: Biological Mimics of Protein-DNA Complexes and Microtubules as Drug Targets.

Kimberly Sara Craig, Field of Specialization: Psychology. Dissertation: Avoiding the recent past: Which stimulus dimensions influence proactive interference?

Hope Maylene Cummings, Field of Specialization: Communication. Dissertation: Improving Intergroup Relations through Para-social Contact: An Examination of How Pro-social Television Can Heal Race Relations between Black and White Americans.

Doctor of Philosophy

Mahmoud Ahmed Elkasabi, Field of Specialization: Survey Methodology. Dissertation: Joint Calibration Estimator for Dual Frame Surveys.

Nicholas Ezra Field, Field of Specialization: Music: Musicology. Dissertation: Outlandish Authors: Innocenzo Fede and Musical Patronage at the Stuart Court in London and in Exile.

Gamola Zawadi Fortenberry, Field of Specialization: Environmental Health Sciences. Dissertation: The Role of Early Life Pesticide Exposure, Genetic Susceptibility, and Thyroid Function in Childhood Neurodevelopment.

Rheaclere Fraser, Field of Specialization: Pharmacology. Dissertation: Functional Characterization of N-terminal Threonine Mutations in Human Dopamine and Norepinephrine Transporters.

Marco Zialcita Garrido, Field of Specialization: Sociology. Dissertation: The Genetic and Molecular Etiologies of Two Spontaneous Mouse Models of Skeletal Dysplasia and Infertility.

William Travis Gignac, Field of Specialization: Mathematics. Dissertation: Equidistribution of Preimages in Nonarichmedean Dynamics

Doctor of Philosophy

Huaiying Gu, Field of Specialization: Applied and Interdisciplinary Mathematics. Dissertation: Value-at-Risk (VaR) and Dynamic Portfolio Selection.

Juliet Fara Guzzetta, Field of Specialization: Romance Languages and Literatures: Italian. Dissertation: Stages of History: Performing 1970s Italy with Narrative Theater.

Ariel Haim Hecht, Field of Specialization: Biomedical Engineering. Dissertation: Development of Magnetorotation as a Signal Transduction Method for Protein Detection.

Andrew Donald Hirsh, Field of Specialization: Mechanical Engineering. Dissertation: Simulating the Mechanics of Protein-Induced DNA Looping and Protein-Constrained DNA Buckling.

Elan Colquitt Hope, Field of Specialization: Education and Psychology. Dissertation: Towards an Understanding of Civic Engagement and Civic Commitment among Black Early Adolescents.

Sara Elizabeth Jackson, Field of Specialization: Germanic Language and Literature. Dissertation: Staging the Deadlier Sex: Dangerous Women in German Text and Performance at the Fin de Siécle.

Traci M. Kennedy, Field of Specialization: Psychology. Dissertation: Exposed: Revealing Patterns of Community Violence Exposure and Psychological Well-Being Among Urban Youth.

Eun Soo Kim, Field of Specialization: Mechanical Engineering. Dissertation: Synergy of Multiple Cylinders in Flow Induced Motion for Hydrokinetic Energy Harnessing.

Sasha Kimel, Field of Specialization: Psychology. Dissertation: Consequences of Emphasizing Genetic Commonalities and Differences on Inter-Ethnic Conflict: Implications for Peace and Violence in the Middle East.

Doctor of Philosophy

Vishalakshi Krishnan, Field of Specialization: Chemistry. Dissertation: An Investigation of the RNA Induced Silencing Complex and its Therapeutic Implications.

Chak Fu Lam, Field of Specialization: Business Administration. Dissertation: Direct or Polite? Antecedents and Consequences of How Employees Express Voice.

Raymond Liang, Field of Specialization: Aerospace Engineering. Dissertation: The Combination of Two Concentric Discharge Channels into a Nested Hall-Effect Thruster.
Doctor of Philosophy

Xin Liu, Field of Specialization: Chemistry. Dissertation: Molecular Recognition of Inhibitors, Metal Ions and Substrates by Ribonuclease P.

Liliya Vasileva Mancour, Field of Specialization: Biological Chemistry. Dissertation: Structural Dynamics of Transmembrane Signaling Complexes by Negative Stain Electron Microscopy.

Fiona Rosemary McMaster, Field of Specialization: Health Behavior and Health Education. Dissertation: Motivational Interviewing in Clinical Settings.

Nicole Anne Michelotti, Field of Specialization: Physics. Dissertation: Using the Features of Brownian Motion to Characterize the Nuclear Pore Complex, Molecular Robots, and Antimony-Doped Tin Oxide.
Doctor of Philosophy

Orion Peter Mowbray, Field of Specialization: Social Work and Psychology. Dissertation: Social Network Ties and Goal Formation: Correlates of Treatment Entry and Reduced Alcohol use Following Treatment Completion.

Ashin Mukherjee, Field of Specialization: Statistics. Dissertation: Topics on Reduced Rank Methods for Multivariate Regression.

Michelle Lynne Munro, Field of Specialization: Nursing. Dissertation: To B or not to B? Plan B and Post-Assault Comprehensive Care.

Daniel Patrick Murphy, Field of Specialization: Public Policy and Economics. Dissertation: Modeling Demand in International and Macro Economics.

Jing Nie, Field of Specialization: Chemistry. Dissertation: Capillary Electrophoresis as a High Throughput Screening Tool for Protein Protein Interactions.

Doctor of Philosophy

Hee Mok Park, Field of Specialization: Business Administration. Dissertation: Mutual Interdependence between Consumers and Firms.

Elizabeth Leigh Platte, Field of Specialization: Greek and Roman History. Dissertation: Monks and Matrons: The Economy of Charity in the Late Antique Mediterranean.

Tianshu Qu, Field of Specialization: Business Administration. Dissertation: Taking Advantage of Transparency: the relation between Public Information Transparency and Outside Director Trading Profitability.

Ram Rao, Field of Specialization: Biomedical Engineering. Dissertation: Dual Phase Engineered Tissue for Enhanced Bone Formation.

Ebony Chante Reddock, Field of Specialization: Health Behavior and Health Education. Dissertation: “Raising a Dad”: Parenting Support and Psychological Stress Among African American Grandmothers Whose Sons are Teenage Fathers.

Doctor of Philosophy

Kristen Ann Russ, Field of Specialization: Toxicology. Dissertation: Cellular Toxicity of C₆₀ Fullerenes in RAW 264.7 Immortalized Macrophages.

Shana Marie Santos, Field of Specialization: Chemistry. Dissertation: Understanding the Enzyme-inhibitor Interaction within the Substrate Pocket of Protein Tyrosine Kinases.

Ethan David Schoolman, Field of Specialization: Sociology. Dissertation: How Personal is the Political? Understanding Socially Responsible Consumption.

Chenxi Shen, Field of Specialization: Chemical Biology. Dissertation: Characterization of the Protein-Protein Interactions between Histone Methyltransferase DOT1L and MLL Fusion Proteins towards Developing Small Molecule Inhibitors.

Becky Renee Simon, Field of Specialization: Cellular and Molecular Biology. Dissertation: Regulation of Adipocyte Differentiation and Metabolism by Artificial Sweeteners and Sweet Taste Receptors.

Ashley Rose Sloat, Field of Specialization: Immunology. Dissertation: The Role of Notch Signaling in T Cell-mediated Immune Disorders.

Stephanie Loie Stenzel, Field of Specialization: Epidemiological Science. Dissertation: Genome-wide Approaches to Identifying the Etiologies of Complex Diseases: Applications in Colorectal Cancer and Congenital Heart Disease.

Johnna Rose Swartz, Field of Specialization: Psychology. Dissertation: Emotion Processing in Children and Adolescents with Anxiety Disorders and Typically Developing Youth.

Doctor of Philosophy

Patrick O'Reilly Tonks, Field of Specialization: Comparative Literature. Dissertation: Cannibal Routes: Mapping the Atlantic as a Network of Appropriations.

Alison Marie Vacca, Field of Specialization: Near Eastern Studies. Dissertation: From Kucu Karpoh to Al-Ǧarbī: Sasanian Antecedents, the Sectarian Milieu, and the Creation of an Islamic Frontier in Armaniya.

Andrew D. Van Alstyne, Field of Specialization: Sociology. Dissertation: From Social Movements to Non-Governmental Organizations: Civil Society and Local Environmental Governance Under Fordism and Neoliberalism.

Xiang Wang, Field of Specialization: Molecular, Cellular and Developmental Biology. Dissertation: Na+ and Ca2+ Channels in the Lysosome: Opening the Gate to the Cell’s Recycling Center.

Doctor of Philosophy

Ziqi Wu, Field of Specialization: Biomedical Engineering. Dissertation: Cardiac Electrophysiological Changes during High Intensity Focused Ultrasound Ablation.

Yingda Ye, Field of Specialization: Chemistry. Dissertation: Investigations into Transition Metal Catalyzed/Mediated Arene Trifluoromethylation and Fluorination Reactions.

Bo Zhao, Field of Specialization: Business Administration. Dissertation: The Effects of State Innovation Programs on Entrepreneurial Firms: Three Essays.

Statement on Freedom of Speech and Artistic Expression

Thank you for attending this program. The University of Michigan strives to create a truly open forum, one in which diverse opinions can be expressed and heard.

It is the right of members of the University community, speakers, artists, and other invited guests to express their views and opinions at the University. We will protect the right of individuals to speak or perform, and the rights of those members of the University community who wish to hear and communicate with an invited speaker or artist.

Protesters also have a right to express their opposition to a speaker in appropriate ways, both within the confines of this building and outside the facility. However, protesters must not interfere unduly with communication between a speaker or artist and members of the audience.

If the hosts of this event or University representatives believe that protesters are interfering unduly with a speaker or performer’s freedom of expression, those protesters will be warned. If the warnings are not heeded and the interference continues, then the individuals responsible may be removed from the building.

We reaffirm these policies in order to most fully protect the rights of free expression for speakers, performers, and protesters alike, as set forth by our Civil Liberties Board in our Student Handbook, and in accordance with the U-M Standard Practice Guide; Regents’ Ordinance Article XII, Section 1; and state statutes.

Nondiscrimination Policy Statement

The University of Michigan, as an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination and affirmative action. The University of Michigan is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all persons and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, religion, height, weight, or veteran status in employment, educational programs and activities, and admissions. Inquiries or complaints may be addressed to the Senior Director for Institutional Equity, and Title IX/Section 504/ADA Coordinator, Office of Institutional Equity, 2072 Administrative Services Building, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48109-1432, 734-763-0235, TTY 734-647-1388. For other University of Michigan information call 734-764-1817.

Dear Graduate:

On behalf of the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan, congratulations on your momentous achievement.

You may be leaving the University of Michigan, but the ties that bind alumni—across the miles and the years—are strong and enduring. Whether you are on the other side of the country or the other side of the world, you are part of something greater than yourself. You are now part of a community of more than 535,000 Michigan alumni in 180 countries across the globe.

The Alumni Association is your connection to U-M. As a graduation gift, we offer you a complimentary one-year membership to help you maintain the bonds you’ve created over the course of your time on campus. Use it to remind yourself of the place that you hail from, the place that has shaped you into the person you are today. Visit alumni.umich.edu to keep the spirit of U-M close and connect to the powerful global network of U-M alumni.

So as you toss your mortarboard and venture out into the world, celebrate all that you have achieved and remember that you are never far from the University of Michigan.

Again, our congratulations and very best wishes for your future.

Sincerely,

Janey Lack, ’62
Chair of the Board of Directors
Alumni Association of the University of Michigan

Steve Grafton
President and CEO
Alumni Association of the University of Michigan

For those who leave Michigan, but for whom Michigan never leaves, this is where you belong. The Alumni Association of the University of Michigan.
The Yellow and Blue

Sing to the colors that float in the light;
   Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!
Yellow the stars as they ride thro’ the night,
   And reel in a rollicking crew;
Yellow the fields where ripens the grain,
   And Yellow the moon on the harvest wain;
Hail!
Hail to the colors that float in the light;
   Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!

The Victors

Hail! to the victors valiant,
   Hail! to the conqu’ring heroes,
   Hail! Hail! to Michigan
   the leaders and best.
Hail! to the victors valiant,
   Hail! to the conqu’ring heroes,
   Hail! Hail! to Michigan
   the champions of the West.
