Honoring the Class of 2019

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Spring Commencement

May 4, 2019 | Michigan Stadium
This program includes a list of candidates for degrees to be granted upon completion of formal requirements. Candidates for graduate degrees are recommended jointly by the Executive Board of the Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies and the faculty of the school or college awarding the degree. Following the School of Graduate Studies, schools are listed in order of their founding. Candidates within those schools are listed by degree then by specialization, if applicable.

Nobel Laureate Randy Schekman, professor of cell and developmental biology at the University of California, Berkeley (UC Berkeley), and a Howard Hughes Medical Institute investigator, is one of the world’s preeminent biologic scientists. In 2013, he, James Rothman, and Thomas Südhof shared the Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine “for their discoveries of machinery regulating vesicle traffic, a major transport system in our cells.” Professor Schekman, who was born in St. Paul, Minnesota, and grew up near Long Beach, California, earned a B.A. degree in molecular biology (1971) from the University of California, Los Angeles, and a Ph.D. in biochemistry (1975) from Stanford University, where he studied the enzymology of DNA reproduction. A UC Berkeley faculty member since 1976, Professor Schekman investigates the mechanism of membrane protein traffic in the secretory pathway in eukaryotic cells. Beginning with a genetic and biochemical dissection of the pathway in the yeast Saccharomyces cerevisiae, he discovered the mechanisms by which eukaryotic cells transport proteins from point of origin to where they perform their functions. The genes and proteins his laboratory discovered in yeast have counterparts in all eukaryotes and have been implicated in several human genetic diseases. His research has encouraged the biotechnology industry to use yeast as a platform to produce clinically important human secreted proteins, including recombinant human insulin. The world’s supply of recombinant hepatitis B vaccine is made in vesicles produced in yeast. Because hepatitis B infection is the major cause of liver cancer, the vaccine promises to reduce the incidence of liver cancer by 90 percent. In recent years, his lab has turned from yeast to mammalian cell culture to investigate other aspects of human physiology and disease. Professor Schekman, founding editor of the open access online journal eLife, previously edited Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences and is a past president of the American Society for Cell Biology (ASCB). He also is an exceptional teacher known for conveying complex information in an engaging way, and has trained leading scientists now working at the world’s top academic institutions. An enthusiastic supporter of basic biological research, he donated his Nobel Prize proceeds to UC Berkeley to create the Esther and Wendy Schekman Chair in Basic Cancer Biology in memory of his mother and sister, who both died of cancer. He is a charter member of U-M’s Life Sciences Institute Scientific Advisory Board and authoritative spokesperson on the important role public universities play in advancing science. Professor Schekman is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the American Philosophical Society, and the National Academy of Sciences. Among other honors, he has been recognized with the Albert Lasker Award for Basic Medical Research, the Canada Gairdner Foundation International Award, and the E.B. Wilson Medal from the ASCB.

Professor Schekman, you are transforming molecular biology and the life sciences with your distinguished contributions as a researcher, educator, academic publisher, and champion of public universities and basic research. Students and younger colleagues are inspired by your success in identifying important research questions and addressing them with innovative approaches and scientific rigor — actions that have generated pioneering breakthroughs and new fields of discovery. The University of Michigan is delighted to welcome you back to campus and proud to present to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Science.
HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Mark di Suvero
Doctor of Fine Arts

Internationally renowned sculptor and peace activist Mark di Suvero is one of the most celebrated artists of his generation. His sculptures, assembled from industrial materials and found objects, occupy museums and outdoor public settings around the world, including at the University of Michigan. Located near the Museum of Art, Shang (1984-1985), a kinetic sculpture with a suspended element that swings, and Orion (2006), named after the constellation, are among Michigan’s most recognizable landmarks. Mr. di Suvero, the son of Italian parents, was born in Shanghai, China, in 1933. He immigrated with his family to the United States in 1941. After earning a B.A. degree in philosophy (1956) from the University of California, Berkeley, he moved to New York City. Shortly before his first solo exhibition at the Green Gallery in 1960, he was injured in a construction accident and confined to a wheelchair for two years, during which time he refined his steel-working skills. A self-trained welder and licensed crane operator, Mr. di Suvero maintains studios in Petaluma, California, and in Long Island City, New York, next to Socrates Sculpture Park. The community park and exhibition space, which he helped establish in 1986, has supported more than 1,200 artists. An outspoken critic of the Vietnam War, he collaborated on the Peace Tower in Los Angeles in 1966 and left the United States in 1971. Upon his return in 1975, the Whitney Museum of American Art honored him, in New York City, with the first retrospective and American citywide exhibition of his work. For the Whitney Museum’s biennial in 2006, he spearheaded creation of a second Peace Tower, in opposition to the Iraq War. Mr. di Suvero is the first living artist to exhibit in Tuileries Garden and Les Esplanades des Invalides in Paris and Chicago’s Millennium Park. In 1995, in conjunction with the 100th anniversary of the Venice Biennale, seven of his pieces were installed along the Grand Canal. His creations — many with moving elements that invite viewer participation — are in more than 100 museums and public collections, including the J. Paul Getty Museum, the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden, the Museum of Modern Art, the National Gallery of Art, and the Storm King Art Center, where he has had three major exhibitions. In 2011-2012, U-M’s Museum of Art organized “Mark di Suvero: Tabletops,” showcasing 15 of his rarely exhibited smaller scale pieces. As part of the exhibition, School of Music, Theatre & Dance students performed in movement dialogue with Orion and Shang. Among other accolades, Mr. di Suvero has been recognized with the International Sculpture Center’s Lifetime Achievement Award in Contemporary Sculpture and the Heinz Award for Arts and Humanities. He received the National Medal of Arts in 2011 and an American Academy of Arts and Letters Gold Medal in 2013.

Mr. di Suvero, you inspire us with your unparalleled talent and indomitable spirit, reflected in your pioneering use of steel in public sculptures worldwide. You have demonstrated through your art, support of other artists, and acts of conscience how resolute individuals, by harnessing imagination and creativity, can build community and promote peace. Additionally, each day you enliven the University’s cultural landscape with your iconic sculptures Shang and Orion. The University of Michigan is excited to present to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Fine Arts.
Award-winning performing artist and civil rights activist Leslie Uggams is internationally acclaimed as a singer and actress of stage, television, and film. Renowned for her willingness to embrace new challenges throughout her career, Ms. Uggams, a native New Yorker, debuted on television at age six in a supporting role on the program Beulah. As a youth, she appeared on TV shows hosted by Milton Berle and Arthur Godfrey and opened for Louis Armstrong, Ella Fitzgerald, and Dinah Washington at the legendary Apollo Theater. Ms. Uggams graduated from the Professional Children’s School in Manhattan and studied at The Juilliard School. She released her first hit single “Morgan” in 1959, and two years later became the first African American to perform regularly on a prime-time television series when she joined Mitch Miller’s Sing Along with Mitch. An audience favorite, she overcame behind-the-scenes struggles, from the reluctance of southern stations to air the program because it featured a black performer to bomb threats at the production studio. She launched her nightclub career with a national tour in the mid-1960s, and in 1967 opened at New York’s Martin Beck Theatre in the musical Hallelujah, Baby! She won both a Tony Award and Theatre World Award for best actress in a musical. In 1970, she became the first African American woman to star in her own TV variety series, The Leslie Uggams Show, and used the opportunity to advance the hiring of people of color on her show and in the entertainment industry. She also advocated for racial equality as a consultant on civil rights to Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson. Ms. Uggams made her film debut opposite Charlton Heston in 1972 in the MGM hit film Skyjacked. She starred in the TV miniseries Backstairs at the White House, among others, and is perhaps best known for playing Kizzy in Alex Haley’s television series Roots, which won her worldwide recognition, including the Critics Choice Award for Best Supporting Actress in 1978. She also won an Emmy as co-host of the NBC-TV series Fantasy. Contemporary audiences know Ms. Uggams as Leah Walker, mother of Lucious Lyon in the Fox drama series Empire, Sadie in the HBO movie The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks, and Blind Al in the 20th Century Fox Marvel movie series Deadpool. In 2014, she became the first African American woman to play Mama Rose in Gypsy, directed by U-M Musical Theatre Department Chair Vincent J. Cardinal at the Connecticut Repertory Theatre. She maintains an active schedule of concerts and television guest appearances and has appeared in concert halls with major symphony orchestras, including the National Symphony Orchestra. She has been recognized with several AUDELCO (Audience Development Committee, Inc.) Awards, and received the Arena Stage American Artist Award in 2011 for her significant contributions to theater.

Ms. Uggams, you are a woman of remarkable achievement and an exceptional role model for all who aspire to become leaders and the best they can be. After decades of groundbreaking performances, you continue to enthrall audiences, inspire new generations of performers at Michigan and beyond, and challenge precedent within the entertainment industry and society more broadly. The University of Michigan is delighted to recognize your many advances in the performing arts and race relations and to present to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Fine Arts.
The Honorable Gretchen Whitmer, Michigan’s 49th governor, is widely admired for her integrity and work ethic, political acumen, and focus on fundamentals such as accessible health care, roads, schools, and water quality in municipal systems and the Great Lakes. She visited all 83 counties during her campaign, listening to citizens’ concerns and aspirations for the state. A lifelong Michigander, she was born in Lansing and grew up in Grand Rapids and East Lansing. Her parents, one a Democrat and the other a Republican, instilled in her and her siblings a strong work ethic and deep belief in the dignity of every human being. Gov. Whitmer, a graduate of Forest Hills Central High School outside Grand Rapids, earned a B.A. degree in communications (1993) from Michigan State University, where she graduated magna cum laude, and a J.D. (1998) from the MSU Detroit College of Law. She represented East Lansing in the Michigan House of Representatives from 2000 to 2006, and served four years as the ranking Democrat on the House Appropriations Committee. As a first-term legislator, Gov. Whitmer cared for her ailing mother at the end of her life and gave birth to her first daughter. Those caretaking experiences taught her the importance of access to affordable health care and paid family leave — both of which she vigorously supports. Elected to the state Senate in 2006, she served on the Agriculture, Government Operations, Health Policy, and Judiciary committees, as well as the Michigan Legislative Council, and the Board of Governors of the Senate Fiscal Agency. In 2010, her colleagues unanimously elected her Senate Democratic leader, the first woman to lead a Michigan Senate party caucus. As Senate Democratic leader, she worked with Gov. Rick Snyder to shepherd the passage of expanded health care coverage to more than 680,000 Michiganders through Healthy Michigan and negotiated raises in the minimum wage. Term limited in 2014, she was unable to run for re-election. Her ambitious agenda as governor includes, among other priorities, improving drinking water quality, stabilizing school aid funding, fixing the state’s roads, and enhancing government transparency. In addition to serving in state government, Gov. Whitmer has taught at MSU and the University of Michigan, where she was the Harry A. and Margaret D. Towsley Foundation Policymaker in Residence, and taught the course Running, Serving, and Leading at the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy. In 2016, she stepped up to serve as Ingham County prosecutor, restoring faith in the office that had been hit by scandal. In that role, she established a new Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault Unit in Ingham County, and sped up rehabilitation of nonviolent first-time offenders.

Gov. Whitmer, you have earned the respect of fellow Michiganders with your energy, leadership skills, and ability to bring business and civic leaders, educators, and elected officials with diverse points of view together to work for the common good. We are inspired by your passion for public service and determination to chart a course that improves the lives of current residents and strengthens our state now and for future generations. The University of Michigan celebrates your contributions to effective government and proudly presents to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws.
STUDENT SPEAKERS

Yvonne Guadalupe Navarrete
Senior, Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy

Yvonne Navarrete, who was born in Mexico and grew up in Detroit, Michigan, is co-founder, former lead director, and now undergraduate adviser to La Casa, a Latinx umbrella organization representing more than 2,000 students. She also founded the Student Community of Progressive Empowerment, which supports students who are undocumented or have Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals status. She serves on several boards, including the Vice President for Student Life Advisory Board. In 2018, she received a Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Spirit Award, recognizing her leadership in the Latinx community and contributions as an immigrant rights advocate. Yvonne plans to pursue a master’s degree program in education policy and a career in public service that includes promoting educational reforms in Detroit and other large cities.

Bassel Salka
Senior, College of Engineering

Bassel Salka of Bloomfield Hills, Michigan, winner of the College of Engineering Mildred and Steele Bailey Prize for academic excellence, leadership, and service, is active in multiple student organizations. He founded and served as co-president of Michigan Lean Consortium Consulting, led a service trip with the Muslim Student Association, and advocated for halal dining options as Muslim Coalition co-president. As past president and now ex officio leader of the Arab Student Association, Bassel expanded the annual Arab Xpressions cultural show and advocated for Arab voices on campus. He has conducted research at U-M’s Center for Healthcare Engineering and Patient Safety for three years, and in July will begin work at the Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Laboratory on improving health outcomes at U.S. Navy hospitals.

Avraham Sholkoff
Senior, College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Avraham (Avi) Refael Sholkoff of Los Angeles, California, is a history major in the Honors Program with a Spanish minor, and studied at the Universidad de Sevilla. He is a two-term James B. Angell Scholar, an Honors Summer Fellowship recipient, and worked as an undergraduate research scholar for the Michigan in the World program. His honors thesis explores concepts of physical confrontation and masculinity within the context of the Jewish Defense League. Avi is a sports writer and senior sports editor at The Michigan Daily, and raises funds for Michigan Hillel, as a phonathon caller. He also enhances the well-being of fellow students as a mentor and group leader for Wolverine Support Network. He plans to join Oracle as a business development consultant in June.

Kayla Delores Williams
Senior, School of Information

Kayla Williams of Southfield, Michigan, is passionate about making technology more accessible to minorities and people with disabilities. As a software developer at the Shapiro Design Lab, she created a website that supports the University’s accessibility goals. She is a resident adviser at West Quadrangle and outreach director for U-M’s student-run nonprofit Seven Mile Coding, which introduces students in Detroit’s Brightmoor neighborhood to computer coding. She also serves on the outreach committee for Girls in Electrical Engineering and Computer Science, a student organization that encourages the professional, academic, and social development of women in technology. Kayla is active in disability advocacy groups, including Disability Culture @ UM and the Initiative for Inclusive Design. Upon graduation, she will join Eli Lilly and Company as a software developer.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The University’s mace is a symbol of academic scholarship, integrity, and authority. It is carried by the chair of the University Senate at the head of academic processions on such important ceremonial occasions as commencements, convocations, and inaugurations, representing the connection of all faculty members to important academic rituals. The mace being used today was given to the University in 1968 by the Senior Board, representing all the undergraduate schools and colleges. Crafted of red oak and trimmed with silver, the mace features the seals of the University and of the State of Michigan. Also engraved on the mace are the names of the University Presidents.

ACADEMIC COLORS

The colors of the various disciplines are as follows:

Architecture and Urban Planning  blue violet
Business Administration  drab
Dentistry  lilac
Education  light blue
Engineering  orange
Environment and Sustainability  russet
Fine Arts  brown
Information  lemon
Kinesiology  sage green
Law  purple
Literature and Arts  white
Medicine  green
Music  pink
Nursing  apricot
Pharmacy  olive green
Philosophy  dark blue
Public Health  salmon pink
Public Policy  peacock blue
Science  golden yellow
Social Work  citron

Mingled colors distinguish combined curriculums.
ACADEMIC DRESS AND CUSTOM

The colorful gowns and hoods worn by faculty members at commencement and other academic ceremonies represent the degrees, disciplines, and alma maters of the wearers. The American academic costume tradition, imported from England, dates to Colonial days.

Gowns

Bachelor’s or master’s degree gowns traditionally are black, as are many doctoral gowns in the United States. Some universities prescribe that their graduates wear gowns of another solid color such as blue, crimson, or green. Gowns differ in sleeve cut and trim. For example, the bachelor’s gown has long, pointed sleeves while the master’s gown has oblong sleeves. Doctoral gowns, with their distinctive bell-shaped sleeves, feature velvet panels down the front and around the neck, as well as crossbars of velvet on the sleeves. Colored trim denotes the field or discipline in which the degree was earned. Usually only a single degree from one institution is indicated by a garment. If more than one degree is held, the gown and hood of the higher or highest degree usually are worn.

Hoods

The hood most precisely describes the wearer’s level of degree earned, the major field of learning, and the alma mater. The level of the degree held is indicated by the hood’s shape and size and the width of its velvet or velveteen trimming. The bachelor’s, master’s, and doctor’s hoods are 36 inches, 42 inches, and 48 inches long, respectively. The velvet trim is two, three, and five inches wide, with the narrowest being for the bachelor’s hood and the widest for the doctor’s hood. The color of trim on the hood, as on the gown, identifies the major field of learning in which the degree was awarded. The hood is lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree.

Caps

Caps vary in style from the traditional black mortarboard to eight-, six-, and four-corner tams, and Elizabethan-style caps. The mortarboard may be of any appropriate material, such as cotton, poplin, rayon, or silk, to match the gown. Velvet is reserved for holders of doctorates.
SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OF THE UNIVERSITY

The order of presentation is by the year of founding.

College of Literature, Science, and the Arts
The College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, founded in 1841, was the first duly constituted college of the University of Michigan. Today, with more than 15,000 undergraduate and 2,000 graduate students, LSA is the largest of the University’s schools and colleges, and it is still the heart of the campus. Distinguished in the humanities since its earliest years, the college became preeminent in the natural sciences during the early 20th century and went on to become a world leader in social science research. The college has always been dedicated to providing a richly diverse liberal arts education that prepares students to lead fulfilling lives as responsible citizens within a wide range of professional careers.

Medical School
Since opening its doors in 1850, the Medical School has been a leader in medical education, patient care, and biomedical research. In addition to its professional doctor of medicine program, the Medical School offers master’s and doctoral degrees in the basic medical sciences. The school established the nation’s first university-owned and -operated teaching hospital and created the first departments of pharmacology and human genetics in the United States. It also played an important role in the development of the electrocardiogram and in the development of iodized salt as a goiter preventive. The Medical School was among the first major American medical schools to graduate women and African Americans; today there are more practicing M.D.s from the University of Michigan than from any other medical school in the United States.

Law School
Founded in 1859, the Law School awarded its first bachelor of laws degrees in 1860. In 1870, the school became the second in the nation to confer a law degree on an African American candidate and the first major law school to admit a woman. In 1871, one of the school’s graduates became the first woman with a law degree to be admitted to the bar. A national law school from its earliest years, the school’s graduates work in every state of the union and in more than 73 countries, in business, as practitioners and professors, as legislators and members of Congress, and as distinguished civil servants and members of the judiciary.

School of Dentistry
Established in 1875, the School of Dentistry first granted the professional degree, doctor of dental surgery, the following year. A national leader in the training of professional dentists and long active in oral and craniofacial research, the school offers the doctor of dental surgery, master’s degrees, and graduate clinical programs in several dental specialties and general dentistry. A doctoral degree is offered in oral health sciences and in an interdepartmental program in biomaterials. The School of Dentistry also offers baccalaureate and master’s programs in dental hygiene.

College of Pharmacy
Established as a department in 1868, Pharmacy became a college in 1876, the first in any university in the United States. Today, the college has an average annual enrollment of 260 doctor of pharmacy and 70 graduate students, and is consistently ranked among the top pharmacy schools in the nation. The college offers the doctor of pharmacy degree; baccalaureate programs in medicinal chemistry and pharmaceutical sciences; and doctor of philosophy programs in medicinal chemistry, pharmaceutical sciences, and social and administrative sciences. Major areas of research include the biological, chemical, clinical, genomic, economic, and social aspects of drugs and therapeutic agents.
College of Engineering

Instruction began with a class in civil engineering in 1854. Historically, the College of Engineering has been a leader in establishing departments in emerging fields, including metallurgical engineering, naval architecture and marine engineering, electrical engineering, chemical engineering, aeronautical engineering, nuclear engineering, and computer engineering. Today, the college and its 60,000 alumni provide leadership in various technologies, health care, business, and the sciences, improving the quality of people’s lives around the world.

Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies

The Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies oversees and coordinates graduate education, bringing together graduate students and faculty from across the institution to experience and take full advantage of the University as a scholarly community. The University awarded its first master of arts degree in 1849, first master of science degree in 1859, and first doctor of philosophy degree in 1876. Organized as a department in 1892, the School of Graduate Studies became an autonomous unit in 1913. In 1935, a generous gift from Horace H. and Mary A. Rackham included the site and construction of the Rackham Building for graduate studies and a substantial endowment for carrying on graduate work and research.

A. Alfred Taubman College of Architecture and Urban Planning

Michigan offered its first courses in architecture in 1876. The program became a department in 1913, and by 1931, the College of Architecture was established as a separate entity. During the 1940s, the college was one of the few schools in the country to consider research a necessary part of architectural education, and in 1946 it became the first to introduce a graduate program in urban planning. The college offers master of architecture, master of urban planning, and master of urban design degrees; bachelor of science and master of science degrees in architecture; and doctoral programs in architecture and in urban and regional planning. In 1999, the college was named in honor of A. Alfred Taubman, founder and chairman of The Taubman Company, Inc., and a longtime friend, supporter, and adviser to the college.

School of Education

The School of Education was founded in 1921, 42 years after the University established the first chair in any United States collegiate institution devoted to the “science and art of teaching.” The school prepares students for professional careers in teaching and administration, and offers advanced training for researchers and practitioners at all levels of education. Teacher diplomas were first offered in 1874; the first master’s degree in education was conferred in 1891, the first Ph.D. in 1902, and the first Ed.D. in 1938.

Stephen M. Ross School of Business

Building on faculty and course offerings that began in the latter part of the 19th century, the school was formally established in 1924. Today, at all levels of instruction—bachelor’s, master’s, doctoral, and executive education—it programs rank in the top five among American institutions. Each year nearly 1,000 new School of Business graduates enter careers as business professionals and teacher-scholars, joining the approximately 37,000 who already serve in leadership positions in business, government, and academic institutions throughout the world.

School for Environment and Sustainability

The clear-cutting of Michigan’s densely forested wilderness was well under way when the University of Michigan began offering courses in forestry in 1881—the first university in the United States to do so. The year 1903 saw the creation of a Department of Forestry, forerunner of today’s School for Environment and Sustainability (SEAS). The school’s students and faculty organized the famous 1970 Teach-In on the Environment (the prototype of Earth Day), and incubated the scholarly disciplines of Environmental Justice, Environmental Education, and Environmental Informatics. From its inception as a forestry school to the interdisciplinary institution it is today, SEAS has always prepared leaders to understand and solve the major environmental challenges of the era.
School of Music, Theatre & Dance

Consistently ranked among the top performing arts schools in the nation, and one of the oldest, the School of Music, Theatre & Dance is committed to creating an environment of educational and artistic excellence, nurturing creativity, academic integrity, and professionalism in its students and faculty. With degrees offered at the bachelor’s, master’s, and doctoral levels, the School is deeply engaged in the creation, practice, scholarship, and pedagogy of music, theatre, and dance. It fosters a spirit of social responsibility and principled entrepreneurship, and serves the community and State of Michigan through public performances, cultural resources, arts education, and outreach programs.

School of Nursing

The University of Michigan School of Nursing (UMSN) is an international leader in the advancement of nursing knowledge and strategies to improve health care. In addition to the four-year BSN program and the second career in nursing program, UMSN has a robust offering of graduate programs. Students are prepared to be leaders in advanced clinical practice through our M.S.N. and post-baccalaureate Doctorate of Nursing Practice (DNP) programs. Students can also lead and effect change through the M.S.N. or post-masters DNP programs in systems, populations, and leadership. UMSN’s prestigious Ph.D. and postdoctoral programs prepare nurse scientists to develop the knowledge necessary to support and advance nursing practice.

School of Public Health

Founded in 1941 and ranked among the country’s top public health schools, the University of Michigan School of Public Health educates more than 1,000 graduate and undergraduate students each year. With over 170 faculty and researchers across six departments and numerous collaborative centers and institutes, the school brings interdisciplinary, innovative solutions to complex health challenges, including chronic and infectious diseases, obesity and food insecurity, health care quality and cost, climate change and environmental factors, and socioeconomic inequalities and their impact on health. Compassion, innovation, and inclusion drive the faculty, staff, students, and 15,000 alumni of Michigan Public Health to pursue positive change and lasting impact on the health of the world.

School of Social Work

The program in social work began in 1921, and was granted the status of a school in 1951. Faculty maintain high research productivity while teaching an innovative curriculum. At the master’s level, the school prepares professional practitioners for work with individuals, children and their families, the aged, organizations, and communities. Students may focus their studies in the fields of substance abuse, mental health, education, child welfare, program evaluation, and public policy. The joint doctoral program in social work and social science is one of a kind and prepares students for academic and research careers. Graduates of both programs are found in leadership positions around the world. The School of Social Work consistently ranks as one of the best in the nation.

School of Information

A formal program began in 1926, when the Department of Library Science was created in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts. In 1948, offerings became entirely graduate and a doctoral program was inaugurated. Establishment of an independent school, committed to the interdisciplinary study of information and library principles, came in 1969. In response to the rapid change brought on by present technology, the school broadened significantly further in the 1990s. It now pursues a highly interdisciplinary approach to educate professionals who will serve as leaders in the information age. Recognizing this broader mission, the school was renamed the School of Information in 1996.
Penny W. Stamps School of Art & Design

The Penny W. Stamps School of Art & Design traces its history at the University to visual arts education in the late 19th century, awarding its first degree in 1960, and becoming a University of Michigan school in 1974. In 2002, the school launched a unique curriculum that prompted the National Association of Schools of Art and Design to report, "The School of Art & Design and the University of Michigan have created an opportunity to lead the academic conversation in art and design in this country." The school prepares graduates for a broad range of creative professions through its undergraduate and graduate programs. Commitment to the integration of art and design, community engagement, international experience, connections to the academic resources of the University, interdisciplinary pursuit, and public presentation of creative work are required of all majors.

School of Kinesiology

Kinesiology has been part of the University of Michigan curriculum since the turn of the 20th century and joined the ranks for the schools and colleges as an independent unit in 1984. Concentrations have the common thread of human movement and span a wide range including movement science, physical education, sport management, and athletic training. Kinesiology prepares undergraduates for careers as diverse as medicine and physical therapy to athletic administration, marketing, and law. Master’s and doctoral students expand their opportunities in higher education, research, health care, public health or medicine, business, and law.

Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy

The School of Public Policy prepares graduates for distinguished careers in policy analysis and management, and promotes improved public policy through research. Its curriculum combines rigorous grounding in contemporary social science, opportunities to develop expertise in a variety of policy domains, and practical experience. Graduates work in government and the private and nonprofit sectors, using their knowledge, judgment, and new ideas to solve social problems, both domestic and international. The school traces its history to the Institute of Public Administration, established in 1914 as one of the first programs in municipal administration in the United States. In 1999, the regents approved the naming of the school in honor of Gerald R. Ford, the 38th President of the United States and a 1935 graduate of the University.
CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES AND CERTIFICATES

The following is a list of the candidates for degrees to be granted upon completion of formal requirements. A candidate is listed alphabetically by degree, and in some cases also by field of specialization, under the school or college that awards the degree. In this program, candidates are presented in the order of which their respective schools or colleges were founded.

The Executive Board of the Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies awards doctoral, master’s, and some graduate professional degrees (e.g., master of public policy, master of urban planning), although most graduate professional degrees, such as doctor of medicine, master of social work, etc., are awarded by the respective schools or colleges. The Graduate School does not offer course work, and advanced studies are conducted within the school or college of a candidate’s area of specialization.

This program presents as complete and accurate a record of candidates for degrees as is possible as of the publication date.
Candidates for degrees granted May 3, 2019

Doctor of Musical Arts

Doctor of Philosophy

Sukhmani Kaur Bedi, Field of Specialization: Microbiology and Immunology. Dissertation: The Roles of Viral and Host Proteins in Influenza A Virus Assembly and Budding in Infected Cells.

Mathieu Bray, Field of Specialization: Biostatistics. Dissertation: Advances in Methods, Algorithms and Software for Optimization and Simulation of Kidney Paired Donation Programs.
Doctor of Philosophy

Autumn Jade Bullard, Field of Specialization: Biomedical Engineering. Dissertation: Feasibility of Using the Utah Array for Long-Term Fully Implantable Neuroprosthetics Systems.

Peter Burby, Field of Specialization: Molecular, Cellular and Developmental Biology. Dissertation: Mechanisms of DNA Repair and DNA Damage Dependent Cell Cycle Control in Bacillus subtilis.

Kristin Carlson, Field of Specialization: Toxicology. Dissertation: Evaluating the Risk of Ototoxicity Due to Metals Exposures.

Rodney Alan Caruthers II, Field of Specialization: Near Eastern Studies. Dissertation: Jewish Authors Writing in Greek: How and What They Learned During the Hellenistic and Early Roman Periods.

Yi-Jun Chang, Field of Specialization: Computer Science and Engineering. Dissertation: Locality of Distributed Graph Problems.

Ainash Childlabayeva, Field of Specialization: Anthropology and Toxicology. Dissertation: Effects of High Altitude and Inorganic Lead (Pb) on DNA Methylation in Andeans.

Doctor of Philosophy

Matt DeMonbrun, Field of Specialization: Higher Education. Dissertation: ‘Will They Revolt?’: An Examination of Student Response to Types of Instruction in the Engineering Discipline.

Lindsey Renee Drake, Field of Specialization: Medicinal Chemistry. Dissertation: Novel Approaches to PET Imaging Neuroinflammation.

Megan Dunn, Field of Specialization: Chemical Engineering. Dissertation: Orthogonal Chemistries in the Directed Assembly of Complex Molecular Architectures.

Allison Jade Dupzyk, Field of Specialization: Microbiology and Immunology. Dissertation: Mechanism of Membrane Penetration by Nonenveloped Polyomavirus and Papillomavirus.

Michael Fang, Field of Specialization: Public Policy and Sociology. Dissertation: Three Essays on the Relationship Between Social Ties and Mental Health.

Maia Farrar, Field of Specialization: English Language and Literature. Dissertation: Desiring Discord: Political Conflict in Medieval Romance.

Chelsea Rose Fisher, Field of Specialization: Anthropology. Dissertation: Maya Farming Communities and the Long View of Sustainability at Tzacaui.

Leanna Lauren Foster, Field of Specialization: Macromolecular Science and Engineering. Dissertation: Combating Bacterial Infections Through Polymer-Bacteria Interactions.

Erin Gallagher, Field of Specialization: Medicinal Chemistry. Dissertation: Modulating the elf4E-elf4G Protein-Protein Interaction in Human Disease.

Carolyn Sara Giroux, Field of Specialization: Educational Studies. Dissertation: How Do Youth Engage in Engineering Literacies?: A Study of Literacy Learning in Middle and High School Engineering design.
Doctor of Philosophy

Amelia Ann Glazier, Field of Specialization: Molecular and Integrative Physiology. Dissertation: Protein Turnover and Quality Control of Cardiac Myosin Binding Protein C in Hypertrophic Cardiomyopathy.

Danielle Erin Goodman, Field of Specialization: Cellular and Molecular Biology. Dissertation: The Roles of eIF2 Kinases PKR and GCN2 during Mouse Adenovirus Type 1 Infection.

Sierrah Marie Grigsby, Field of Specialization: Molecular and Cellular Pathology. Dissertation: Interrogating DOT1L Recruitment by MLL-Fusion Proteins MLL-AF9 and MLL-ENL Towards the Development of Novel Targeted Therapy.

Allegra Graciana Hawkins, Field of Specialization: Cancer Biology. Dissertation: Wnt/Beta-Catenin Signaling and the Tumor Microenvironment in Ewing Sarcoma Progression.

Vivienne Hazzard, Field of Specialization: Nutritional Sciences. Dissertation: Family Risk and Protective Factors for Binge Eating-Related Concerns in a Nationally Representative Sample of Young Adults in the United States.

Elsa Hinds, Field of Specialization: Chemistry. Dissertation: Development of Strategies for the Synthesis of Heterocycles and Carbocycles; and Investigation of Chemistry Course Placement on Undergraduate Students.

Rebecca N. Huffman, Field of Specialization: English Language and Literature. Dissertation: ‘Ye that heres and sees this vision’: Imagined Readers, Imagined Reading in Late Medieval English Devotional Writing.

Houtan Jebelli, Field of Specialization: Civil Engineering. Dissertation: Wearable Biosensors to Understand Construction Workers’ Mental and Physical Stress.

Doctor of Philosophy

Tom Jurkowski, Field of Specialization: Biological Chemistry. Dissertation: Mechanism and Specificity of Human DNA Ligase I.

Jenny Deborah Kohn, Field of Specialization: English Language and Literature. Dissertation: Debating Difference in an Age of Reform: Liberal Praxis and Representation in Mid-Nineteenth-Century Britain.

Brittany Nicole Kuhn, Field of Specialization: Neuroscience. Dissertation: Elucidating the Role of the Paraventricular Nucleus of the Thalamus and Cortico-Thalamic Circuitry in Cocaine-Seeking Behavior.

Andrew Patrick Lapointe, Field of Specialization: Kinesiology. Dissertation: The Relationship Between Repeated Subclinical Head Impacts and Electrophysiological Indices of Brain Function.

Jeonghyo Lee, Field of Specialization: Medicinal Chemistry. Dissertation: Chiral Phosphoric Acid Catalyzed Regioselective Functionalization of Carbohydrates.

Hao Lei, Field of Specialization: Mechanical Engineering. Dissertation: Developments and Applications of Laser-Based and X-Ray-Based Biomedical Thermoacoustic Imaging Techniques.

Qiaochu Li, Field of Specialization: Electrical Engineering. Dissertation: Photoacoustic Technologies beyond Medical Imaging-PASA and LGFU.

Yige Li, Field of Specialization: Biomedical Engineering. Dissertation: Monopolar Acoustic Pulses in Histotripsy and Other Applications.
Doctor of Philosophy

Jiajun Lin, Field of Specialization: Macromolecular Science and Engineering. Dissertation: Dehydrofluorination Induced High Piezoelectric Poly (Vinylidene Fluoride) and Applications.

Hao Lin, Field of Specialization: Physics. Dissertation: Searches for Resonant and Non-resonant Higgs Boson Pair-production in the bbar+- Decay Channel with 36.1 fb-1 PP Collision Data at Vs = 13 TeV with the ATLAS Detector.

Dana Kathryn Loll, Field of Specialization: Health Behavior And Health Education. Dissertation: Reproductive Autonomy and Sexual and Reproductive Health Outcomes among Young Women in Ghana.

Jeffrey S. Lowe, Field of Specialization: Chemical Engineering. Dissertation: First-principles Modeling of Anode/Electrolyte Interfaces in Beyond Li-ion Batteries.

Haoheng Lu, Field of Specialization: Molecular and Integrative Physiology. Dissertation: The Role of Transcription Factor EB in the Vascular Wall Biology.

Theresa Mau, Field of Specialization: Immunology. Dissertation: The Effects of Early-Life Drug and Dietary Interventions on Late-Life Disease Development.

Tyler Edward Mayo, Field of Specialization: Classical Studies. Dissertation: Research and Experiment in Early Greek Thought.

Justin Russell McNally, Field of Specialization: Biological Chemistry. Dissertation: Kinetic Analysis of Human DNA Ligase III.

Doctor of Philosophy

Felicitas Katharina Mittereder, Field of Specialization: Survey Methodology. Dissertation: Predicting and Preventing Breakoff in Web Surveys.

Valentina Montero Román, Field of Specialization: English Language and Literature. Dissertation: Interrogating the Mind of Modernism: Gender, Race, and Modern Cognitive Citizenship.

Sarah Wendy Paleb, Field of Specialization: Chemical Engineering. Dissertation: Promoting Molybdenum Carbide for Biofuels Upgrading.

Olivia Palmer, Field of Specialization: Biomedical Engineering. Dissertation: Non-Invasive Venous Thrombus Composition and Therapeutic Response by Multiparametric MRI.

Ziheng Pan, Field of Specialization: Mechanical Engineering. Dissertation: Design and Control Optimization of Hybrid Electric Vehicles: from Two-Wheel-Drive to All-Wheel-Drive Vehicles.

Maria Robles Gila, Field of Specialization: Romance Languages and Literatures Spanish. Dissertation: Broken Filiations: Bodies, Language and Mourning in Twentieth-Century México.

James Patrick Ropa, Field of Specialization: Molecular and Cellular Pathology. Dissertation: Epigenetic and Transcriptional Regulation of Self Renewal in Acute Myeloid Leukemia.

Doctor of Philosophy

William Gertz Runyan, Field of Specialization: Comparative Literature. Dissertation: Global Form and Fantasy in Yiddish Literacy Culture: Visions from Mexico City and Buenos Aires.

Emma Margaret Sachs, Field of Specialization: Classical Art and Archaeology. Dissertation: Style and Variety in the Art of the Roman Domestic Sphere.

Jordann Alyse Smak, Field of Specialization: Cellular and Molecular Biology. Dissertation: Cell Cycle-Specific Functions and Regulation of the DNA Nuclease SNM1B.

Sarah Ashley Snyder, Field of Specialization: Materials Science and Engineering. Dissertation: Biological Applications of Surfaces with Extreme Wettabilities.

Austin Jonathan Jerome Stewart, Field of Specialization: Music: Musicology. Dissertation: The Opera is Booming. This is a City.: Opera in the Urban Frontier of Denver, 1864-1893.

Doctor of Philosophy

Stephanie Yiin-Ling Su, Field of Specialization: Physics. Dissertation: Search for the Neutral Long-Lived Kaon Rare Decay KL -> p0 v v.

Chun-Chen Tu, Field of Specialization: Statistics. Dissertation: Enhancing Prediction Efficacy with High-Dimensional Input Via Structural Mixture Modeling of Local Linear Mappings.

Duygu Ula, Field of Specialization: Comparative Literature. Dissertation: Towards a Local Queer Aesthetics: Queer Cultural Productions from Bosnia and Herzegovina, Serbia and Turkey.

Guihua Wang, Field of Specialization: Business Administration. Dissertation: Driving Precision Health Care through Heterogeneous Outcome Analysis.

Emily Mulas Wilson, Field of Specialization: English and Education. Dissertation: Restoring in the Discourses and Literacies of Military-Connected Students.

Steven Richard Wilson, Field of Specialization: Computer Science and Engineering. Dissertation: Natural Language Processing for Personal Values and Human Activities.

Doctor of Philosophy

Mason Davis Wright, Field of Specialization: Computer Science and Engineering. Dissertation: Stable Profiles in Simulation-Based Games via Reinforcement Learning and Statistics.

Dear Graduate:

On behalf of the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan, congratulations on your momentous achievement.

You may be leaving the University of Michigan, but the ties that bind alumni—across the miles and the years—are strong and enduring. Whether you are on the other side of the country or the other side of the world, you are part of something greater than yourself. You are now part of a community of more than 585,000+ Michigan alumni in 180 countries across the globe.

The Alumni Association is your connection to U-M. As a graduation gift, you will receive a complimentary one-year membership to help you maintain the bonds you’ve created over the course of your time on campus. Use it to remind yourself of the place that you hail from, the place that has shaped you into the person you are today. Visit umalumni.com to keep the spirit of U-M close and connect to the powerful global network of U-M alumni.

So as you toss your mortarboard to the sky and venture out into the world, celebrate all that you have achieved, and remember that, with us, you are never far from the University of Michigan.

Again, our congratulations and very best wishes for your future.

Sincerely,

Ellen Agress, ’68

• Maps and shuttle routes for after the ceremony
• Inclement weather plans

Contact us at springcommencement@umich.edu with comments or inquiries about lost and found items.

Entry to the field is for graduates and commencement staff only.

At the end of the ceremony, graduates and families are directed to exit up the aisles onto the concourse. To reduce congestion on the concourse, we ask you to exit the stadium and then join your graduate or family.
The Yellow and Blue

Michael W. Balfe

Sing to the colors that float in the light; Hur-rah for the Yellow and Blue!

Yellow the stars as they ride thro' the night, And reel in a rollicking crew.

Yellow the fields where ripens the grain, And yellow the moon on the harvest wain; Hail!

Hail to the colors that float in the light; Hur-rah for the Yellow and Blue!
Statement on Freedom of Speech and Artistic Expression

Thank you for attending this program. The University of Michigan strives to create a truly open forum, one in which diverse opinions can be expressed and heard.

It is the right of members of the University community, speakers, artists, and other invited guests to express their views and opinions at the University. We will protect the right of individuals to speak or perform, and the rights of those members of the University community who wish to hear and communicate with an invited speaker or artist.

Protesters also have a right to express their opposition to a speaker in appropriate ways, both within the confines of this building and outside the facility. However, protesters must not interfere unduly with communication between a speaker or artist and members of the audience.

If the hosts of this event or University representatives believe that protesters are interfering unduly with a speaker or performer’s freedom of expression, those protesters will be warned. If the warnings are not heeded and the interference continues, then the individuals responsible may be removed from the building.

We reaffirm these policies in order to most fully protect the rights of free expression for speakers, performers, and protesters alike, as set forth by our Civil Liberties Board in our Student Handbook, and in accordance with the U-M Standard Practice Guide; Regents’ Ordinance Article XII, Section 1; and state statutes.

Nondiscrimination Policy Statement
