HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

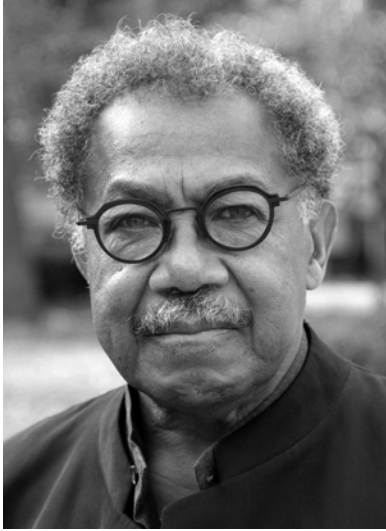

Berry Gordy

Doctor of Music

Motown Records founder Berry Gordy, renowned songwriter, entrepreneur, producer, director, and teacher, revolutionized American popular culture with his business acumen and distinctive Motown sound — up-tempo bass and drum beats, clear vocal arrangements, and romantic lyrics. Founded in 1959 in Detroit, Motown propelled the careers of Smokey Robinson & The Miracles, Diana Ross & The Supremes, Marvin Gaye, Stevie Wonder, The Temptations, Michael Jackson & the Jackson 5, Martha and the Vandellas, and Lionel Richie and the Commodores, among others. Mr. Gordy, a Detroit native, dropped out of high school and was a boxer before deciding to pursue his passion, songwriting. He wrote songs in his head while working on an automobile factory assembly line. His career took off with the hit “Reet Petite” sung by Jackie Wilson, followed by “To Be Loved” and the Grammy-nominated “Lonely Teardrops.” When he realized he would have more artistic control and make more money if he owned and recorded his songs, he founded Tamla Records and the Jobete Music Co. He borrowed $800 from the Gordy family cooperative, bought a modest house he transformed into a studio and office on Detroit’s East Side, and launched Motown Records. He assembled a team of talented musicians from the Detroit Public Schools and seasoned jazz musicians and pursued his vision of creating popular music for all people. Marv Johnson’s “Come to Me” and “Money (That’s What I Want)” by Barrett Strong were some of Motown’s first releases. Soon, Motown artists were performing in clubs and venues around the world and on television shows like American Bandstand and The Ed Sullivan Show. Actively involved in the civil rights movement, Mr. Gordy released the recorded speeches of Martin Luther King, Jr. His films include Lady Sings the Blues (1972), which garnered five Academy Award nominations, and Mahogany (1975). Motown Records grew into Motown Industries, a family of brands that included multiple record labels, motion picture, television, and publishing. It became the largest and most successful Black-owned and operated business in the United States. The University of Michigan celebrated Motown’s 50th anniversary at a conference that resulted in a special Michigan Quarterly Review issue dedicated to the topic. Mr. Gordy’s 1994 memoir inspired the Broadway hit Motown: The Musical, which premiered in 2013 and was nominated for four Tony Awards. In 2019, Motown celebrated its 60th anniversary with a yearlong celebration, including Mr. Gordy’s acclaimed documentary Hitsville: The Making of Motown. In December 2021, his artists, friends, and family gathered to pay tribute to Mr. Gordy at the 44th Kennedy Center Honors. A recipient of the Martin Luther King, Jr. Leadership Award and the Rhythm and Blues Foundation’s Lifetime Achievement Award, he is a member of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, the Songwriters Hall of Fame, and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

Mr. Gordy, Motown’s success and numerous contributions to culture and the arts in Michigan, our nation, and the world are a tribute to you and the talents you developed in others. You produced works of art that helped unify the races and changed the course of popular music. Your emphasis on hard work and discipline as the key to artistic success continues to inspire creative people of all ages. The University of Michigan is pleased to present to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Music.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Thomas C. Holt

Doctor of Humane Letters

Thomas C. Holt, the James Westfall Thompson Professor of American and African American History emeritus at the University of Chicago and a former University of Michigan faculty member, is a brilliant scholar, dedicated mentor of students from all backgrounds, and noted public intellectual. His extensive writings about the experiences of people in the African diaspora, especially those in the Caribbean, Europe, and the United States, have profoundly influenced African American history. Professor Holt, a veteran of the civil rights movement, began participating in sit-ins as a youth in his hometown of Danville, Virginia, and worked for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. He earned B.A. (1965) and M.A. (1966) degrees at Howard University and a Ph.D. from Yale University (1973), and taught at Howard and Harvard prior to joining Michigan's faculty in 1979. He received the Charles Sydnor Prize from the Southern Historical Association for his first book Black Over White: Negro Political Leadership in South Carolina during Reconstruction (1977). His second book, The Problem of Freedom: Race, Labor, and Politics in Jamaica and Britain, 1832-1938 (1992), won the Association of Caribbean Historians' Elsa Goveia Prize. A former director of U-M's Center for Afroamerican and African Studies, he received the University's Presidential Initiatives Award in 1987. Since joining the University of Chicago faculty in 1988, Professor Holt has maintained ties with U-M through joint graduate student conferences and as a collaborator on the Postemancipation Societies Project. He delivered the history department's 2016 Martin Luther King Symposium Lecture on "The Atrocity that Launched a Social Movement: Why the Civil Rights Movement began When It Did, as It Did." He has authored numerous journal articles and several books for lay readers, including The Movement: The African American Struggle for Civil Rights (2021). Elected president of the American Historical Association (AHA) in 1994, he provided principled leadership when AHA relocated its annual meeting to protest an anti-lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender amendment to Cincinnati's city charter. Cincinnati voters subsequently removed the amendment. He has served as a member of the Council of the National Endowment for the Humanities and on the board of the American Council of Learned Societies and several editorial boards. He has demonstrated an extraordinary capacity to help students evolve into scholars. From early outreach to high school students to lifelong mentorship of doctoral candidates, he has guided students and colleagues across a wide sweep of research topics. Professor Holt's work has been funded by some of the world's most prestigious institutions, including the National Endowment for the Humanities, the John Simon Guggenheim Foundation, and the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation. He is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the American Philosophical Society, and a recipient of the Wilbur Cross Medal, awarded to Yale University's outstanding graduate alumni.

Professor Holt, as the premier scholar and historian of the African diaspora and a pivotal academic leader, you have left your mark on Michigan and nationally in the discipline of history and the professional lives of students and colleagues. Your deep research, elegant writing, and compassionate perspective, hallmarks of a liberal arts education, demonstrate how a life devoted to scholarship can lead to change through the production of new knowledge and new ways of knowing. The University of Michigan is proud to present to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Humane Letters.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Maria M. Klawe

Doctor of Engineering

Harvey Mudd College President Maria Klawe is a renowned mathematician, computer scientist, scholar, and a leading researcher and expert on methods to increase participation of women and other underrepresented groups in science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) disciplines. She seeks to create science and engineering cultures that support everyone with the ability and interest, independent of gender, race, or other factors. Dr. Klawe, who was appointed Harvey Mudd College's fifth president in 2006, was born in Toronto and earned a B.Sc. degree (1973) and a Ph.D. (1977) in mathematics from the University of Alberta. She has made significant research contributions in mathematics and computer science, including in functional analysis, discrete mathematics, theoretical computer science, human-computer interaction, and gender issues in information technology. In recent years, she has devoted attention to improving K-12 science and mathematics education, including through interactive multimedia. Dr. Klawe came to Harvey Mudd from Princeton University, where, as dean of engineering from 2003 to 2006, she expanded the engineering curriculum and integrated other disciplines to attract non-engineering majors, underrepresented minorities, and women. Previously, she worked eight years at IBM Research in California, two years at the University of Toronto, and 14 years as a faculty member and academic leader at the University of British Columbia. Among other initiatives at Harvey Mudd, Dr. Klawe has introduced curricular changes that emphasize experiential learning, illuminate the importance of engineering to society, and highlight connections between engineering and the arts. She also learns the names of all of the college's 800 undergraduates. In 2005, only 10 percent of Harvey Mudd's computer science majors were women. Today, 46 percent are women. A renowned lecturer, Dr. Klawe shares her research and methods to create an inclusive environment at conferences and colleges across the United States and Canada, including at the University of Michigan, where she has given keynote addresses at workshops on women and leadership in engineering. Dr. Klawe is a board member of Glowforge, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Alliance for Southern California Innovation, and the nonprofit Math for America. She also chairs the board of the nonprofit EdReports.org, and is a trustee for the Mathematical Sciences Research Institute in Berkeley. Dr. Klawe, a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, is a recipient of the Anita Borg Institute's Women of Vision ABIE Award for leadership, the Canadian Association of Computer Science Lifetime Achievement Award, and the American Association of University Women Achievement Award. Among other honors, she was inducted into the U.S. News STEM Solutions Leadership Hall of Fame in 2015, and received the Computing Research Association's 2016 Distinguished Service Award and the Carnegie Corporation of New York's Academic Leadership Award in 2017.

Dr. Klawe, through your research contributions to mathematics and computer science and prowess as an academic leader, you are reshaping mathematics and computer science education. You also have encouraged more students from diverse backgrounds to consider careers in computer science and other technical fields. A strong advocate and role model for women in mathematics and engineering, you inspire students to aim high and educators to work creatively to achieve inclusiveness and equity for K-12 education and beyond. The University of Michigan proudly presents to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Engineering.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

William C. Martin

Doctor of Laws

University of Michigan Alumnus William C. Martin, founder of the First Martin Corporation and founder and chair of the Bank of Ann Arbor, is renowned for his leadership, community service, financial acumen, and unflagging energy and optimism. An outstanding civic leader, entrepreneur, and philanthropist, he generously shares his time and resources in support of multiple organizations, including the University, where he served as the Donald R. Shepherd Director of Intercollegiate Athletics from 2000 to 2010. Mr. Martin of Ann Arbor, a first-generation American who was born and raised in Detroit, earned a B.A. degree (1962) from Wittenberg University, a graduate degree (1963) from the University of Stockholm, and a M.B.A. (1965) from U-M. He founded the First Martin Corporation, a diversified real estate development company based in Ann Arbor, in 1968. First Martin has developed numerous office, commercial, industrial, and residential projects. In 1996, he founded the locally owned Bank of Ann Arbor. Under his leadership as chair, the bank has acquired five financial institutions serving southeastern Michigan, and grown to more than 300 employees, 17 offices, and just under $4 billion in assets. Mr. Martin, who has taught at Muskingum University in Ohio, Eastern Michigan University, and the Stephen M. Ross School of Business, is active in the arts and frequently attends University lectures and symposia. As U-M's 10th athletic director, he helped put Michigan athletics on a firm financial footing and addressed aging athletic facilities while maintaining U-M's tradition of athletic and academic excellence. During his tenure, 13 facilities were built or renovated, including Michigan Stadium, which was completed on time and within budget. While serving as chair of the Big Ten Athletic Directors, Mr. Martin played a leadership role in launching the Big Ten Network. In 2015, former Governor Rick Snyder appointed Mr. Martin to the City of Detroit Financial Oversight Board to monitor city finances coming out of bankruptcy. A lifelong sailor and past president of the United States Sailing Association, Mr. Martin received U.S. sailing's most prestigious award, the Nathanael G. Herreshoff Trophy, in 2003, and was inducted into the National Sailing Hall of Fame in 2017. Known nationally and internationally for his role with the U.S. Olympic Committee (USOC), he was a board member and president of the USOC leading up to the 2004 Summer Olympics in Athens, Greece, and received the USOC's highest honor, the General Douglas MacArthur Award. The Ann Arbor News recognized Mr. Martin as its Citizen of the Year in 2000 for his many contributions, including serving as president of the Washtenaw Land Conservancy and the Ann Arbor Public Schools Foundation Board. He also has served on the boards of Wittenberg University, the National Football Foundation, and the Miami Dolphins.

Mr. Martin, your dedication to Ann Arbor, your alma maters, and the advancement of sport and sportsmanship attests to the powerful and positive influence a committed civic leader and businessperson can have on a community, nation, and the world. By generously sharing your expertise and resources with U-M and other institutions, you have become a role model for all who seek to advance the public good and strive to make the world a better place. The University of Michigan proudly presents to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Maria Shriver

Doctor of Humane Letters

Maria Shriver, founder of Shriver Media and The Women's Alzheimer Movement, is a NBC News special anchor, award-winning journalist, and seven-time New York Times best-selling author. Deeply committed to advancing the well-being of others, she also is a leading advocate for women. The daughter of Special Olympics founder Eunice Kennedy Shriver and R. Sargent Shriver, founding director of the Peace Corps, Ms. Shriver grew up in Maryland and earned a B.A. degree (1977) from Georgetown University. As co-anchor at CBS Morning News and NBC News Sunday Today, Saturday anchor at NBC Nightly News, and contributing anchor to Dateline NBC, she gained a reputation for her professionalism and tenacity. She won an Emmy Award for her coverage of the 1988 Seoul Summer Olympics and a George Foster Peabody Award for the 1998 Dateline NBC: Checks and Balances series on welfare reform. As first lady of California from 2003 to 2010, Ms. Shriver focused on empowering women, developing practical solutions to address poverty, and encouraging Californians to engage in community service. She has been a strong supporter of individuals with intellectual disabilities and active in Special Olympics for many years. Ms. Shriver expanded her focus to the fight against Alzheimer's disease after her father was diagnosed in 2003. She has testified twice before Congress about the impact of Alzheimer's on patients, their families, and the nation, and played an important role in the 2010 passage of the National Alzheimer's Project Act. Her Alzheimer's In America: The Shriver Report on Women and Alzheimer's (2011) was one of the earliest efforts to draw attention to the disproportionate impact of Alzheimer's on women. Ms. Shriver was executive producer of the Academy Award-winning film Still Alice (2014), which tells the story of a woman affected by early onset Alzheimer's, and co-executive producer of the Emmy-winning HBO series The Alzheimer's Project (2009). She authored the best-selling book What's Happening to Grandpa? (2004) and coauthored Color Your Mind: A Coloring Book for Those with Alzheimer's and the People Who Love Them (2017), a resource to help family and caregivers connect with people with dementia. She is the recipient of the Alzheimer's Association's first Lifetime Achievement Award in 2017 and partnered with the Cleveland Clinic to launch the nation's first Alzheimer's disease prevention center for women. Recently, she and her son Patrick Schwarzenegger cofounded the brain health and wellness brand MOSH, an acronym for Maria Owings Shriver Health. Ms. Shriver believes that everyone has the ability to make the world a better place, which she illustrates through conversations with guests on her Architects of Change digital series along with her popular newsletter, The Sunday Paper. Her New York Times bestselling book I've Been Thinking...Reflections, Prayer, and Meditations for a Meaningful Life (2018) offers guidance and encouragement for those seeking to create a meaningful life.

Ms. Shriver, you inspire us with your professional contributions and public service, fueled by the clarity of your mission—to challenge what is, imagine what can be, make a difference, and impact individuals and society in a positive way. You exemplify the commitment and fortitude required to make progress, whether it be fighting Alzheimer's disease or helping women reach their goals, and are a role model for those who seek to advance the public good. The University of Michigan proudly presents to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Humane Letters.

STUDENT SPEAKERS

Lindsay Anderson

Doctor of Dental Surgery Candidate, School of Dentistry

Lindsay Anderson of Byron Center, Michigan, former president of the School of Dentistry Orthodontics Club, has dreamed of becoming an orthodontist since she was seven. She holds a bachelor's degree in neuroscience and two master's degrees in public health from the University of Michigan, and looks forward to starting a three-year residency in orthodontics at U-M in July. She has conducted research on the effect of music therapy on anxiety reduction, and served as dental director of the U-M Student-Run Free Clinic in Pinckney. Lindsay is president of Ann Arbor-based Ballroom Dance Club, and competed nationally with the Michigan Ballroom Dance Team. She plans to earn her fifth U-M degree in 2025, and looks forward to her future endeavors and opportunities in her orthodontics career.

Nicholas Brdar

Senior, College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Nicholas Brdar of Pleasanton, California, a University Honors designee and mental health advocate, is executive director of the Wolverine Support Network (WSN). He became involved in WSN, which collaborates with U-M's Counseling and Psychological Services, as a first-year student. As head of WSN, he manages 40 student-led peer support groups involving 90 trained peer facilitators and 500 participants. He also has chaired Michigan's annual Out of the Darkness Campus Walk, hosted by the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention, one of the nation's largest suicide prevention walks on a college campus. As a research assistant in The Becker Lab at the Michigan Neuroscience Institute, he investigated the neural mechanisms mediating sex differences in addiction. Nicholas plans to pursue a career in clinical psychology.

Noor Moughni

Senior, College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Noor Moughni of Dearborn, Michigan, a six-term James B. Angell Scholar and Phi Beta Kappa graduate, is the proud daughter of Lebanese immigrants. Senior editor of the Michigan in Color section of The Michigan Daily, and co-founder of SOCIll (Students of Color Interested in Law), Noor has demonstrated a passion for cultivating safe spaces for students of racially marginalized identities on campus. Fascinated with fashion as a tool for expression, she has conceptualized and directed multiple photo shoots for SHEI Magazine, U-M's premier student publication for fashion, arts, and culture. Noor will be attending law school in the fall with hopes of pursuing a career at the legal intersection of fashion and civil rights.

Mingxuan (Minnie) Sun

Senior, School of Information and Stephen M. Ross School of Business

Mingxuan (Minnie) Sun of Okemos, Michigan, strives to make a positive impact through servant leadership. As president of Nexecon Consulting Group, a Ross student organization that works with companies ranging from startups to Fortune 500 corporations, she mentored peers through a year of COVID-induced changes to ensure members had opportunities to grow personally and professionally while providing quality work to clients. Passionate about teaching and supporting others, she also worked as an instructional aide for two classes. Additionally, she enjoys playing viola in the Michigan Pops Orchestra, an organization dedicated to bringing music and joy to the Ann Arbor community. Minnie will be working in consulting at Bain & Company in Chicago, and aims to transition into the technology or social impact space long term.

Susan M. Collins

Regents' Citation of Honor

Susan M. Collins, University of Michigan provost and executive vice president for academic affairs and the Edward M. Gramlich Collegiate Professor of Public Policy, is a noted international macroeconomist and highly respected academic leader. Prior to being appointed provost in 2020, she served as the Joan and Sanford Weill Dean of the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy from 2007 to 2017. Dr. Collins, also a professor of economics in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, has long been interested in economic policy and its impact on living standards. Starting July 1, she will bring her extensive knowledge of public policy and macroeconomics to national monetary policymaking in her new role as president and chief executive officer at the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston and member of the Federal Open Market Committee. Dr. Collins, who is of Jamaican descent, was born in Scotland and grew up in Manhattan. She earned a B.A. degree summa cum laude (1980) from Harvard University and a Ph.D. in economics (1984) from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Before joining Michigan, she served on the economics faculties at Harvard University and Georgetown University, and was a senior fellow at the Brookings Institution, where she retains a non-resident affiliation. Her widely published research includes quantitative analyses and case studies. It centers on understanding and fostering economic growth in industrial, emerging market, and developing countries. She has examined determinants of economic growth, the roles of China and India in the global economy, cross-border financial integration, and linkages between trade and labor markets, among other topics. At the Ford School, Dr. Collins launched the school's first undergraduate degree program, which significantly expanded the student body, and fostered an inclusive culture where people from all backgrounds could thrive. As U-M's chief academic and budgetary officer, she has masterfully guided U-M through leadership transitions, COVID-19-related disruptions, and budgetary challenges. She has advanced diversity, equity, and inclusion across campus and promoted innovative approaches to advance student mental health and well-being. In addition to her academic career, Dr. Collins has served on the boards the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, the National Bureau of Economic Research, and the Peterson Institute for International Economics. She is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, a past president of the Association for Professional Schools of International Affairs, and has served on the American Economic Association Executive Committee. Early in her career, she was a senior staff economist on the President's Council of Economic Advisers and a visiting scholar at the International Monetary Fund. Among other honors, she has received grants from the Alfred P. Sloan and Ford foundations, and Harvard University's Galbraith Prize for Excellence in graduate teaching.

Provost Collins, the Board of Regents joins the University community in expressing our deep appreciation for your many contributions as a scholar, academic leader, and public servant. We congratulate you on your appointment to the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, and are confident that you will bring to this crucial and prestigious position the energy, vision, and wisdom that have characterized all your endeavors, at Michigan and throughout your career. The University of Michigan is proud to present to you the Regents' Citation of Honor.

UNIVERSITY FLAGS AND FLAG BEARERS

The flags behind the platform are arranged in the order in which the schools and colleges they represent were founded. As the audience faces the flags, the arrangement from left to right is the following:

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The University's mace is a symbol of academic scholarship, integrity, and authority. It is carried by the chair of the University Senate at the head of academic processions on such important ceremonial occasions as commencements, convocations, and inaugurations, representing the connection of all faculty members to important academic rituals. The mace being used today was given to the University in 1968 by the Senior Board, representing all the undergraduate schools and colleges. Crafted of red oak and trimmed with silver, the mace features the seals of the University and of the State of Michigan. Also engraved on the mace are the names of the University Presidents.

ACADEMIC COLORS

Each discipline is represented by a unique color. Mingled colors distinguish combined curriculums.

Architecture and Urban Planning	blue-violet
Business Administration	drab
Dentistry	lilac
Education	light blue
Engineering	orange
Environment and Sustainability	russet
Fine Arts	brown

Nursing	apricot
Pharmacy	olive green
Philosophy	dark blue
Public Health	salmon pink
Public Policy	peacock blue
Science	science gold
Social Work	citron

ACADEMIC DRESS AND CUSTOM

The colorful gowns and hoods worn by faculty members at commencement and other academic ceremonies represent the degrees, disciplines, and alma maters of the wearers. The American academic costume tradition, imported from England, dates to Colonial days.

Gowns

Bachelor's or master's degree gowns traditionally are black, as are many doctoral gowns in the United States. Some universities prescribe that their graduates wear gowns of another solid color such as blue, crimson, or green. Gowns differ in sleeve cut and trim. For example, the bachelor's gown has long, pointed sleeves while the master's gown has oblong sleeves. Doctoral gowns, with their distinctive bell-shaped sleeves, feature velvet panels down the front and around the neck, as well as crossbars of velvet on the sleeves. Colored trim denotes the field or discipline in which the degree was earned. Usually only a single degree from one institution is indicated by a garment. If more than one degree is held, the gown and hood of the higher or highest degree usually are worn.

Hoods

The hood most precisely describes the wearer's level of degree earned, the major field of learning, and the alma mater. The level of the degree held is indicated by the hood's shape and size and the width of its velvet or velveteen trimming. The bachelor's, master's, and doctor's hoods are 36 inches, 42 inches, and 48 inches long, respectively. The velvet trim is two, three, and five inches wide, with the narrowest being for the bachelor's hood and the widest for the doctor's hood. The color of trim on the hood, as on the gown, identifies the major field of learning in which the degree was awarded. The hood is lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree.

Caps

Caps vary in style from the traditional black mortarboard to eight-, six-, and four-corner tams, and Elizabethan-style caps. The mortarboard may be of any appropriate material, such as cotton, poplin, rayon, or silk, to match the gown. Velvet is reserved for holders of doctorates.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES OF THE UNIVERSITY

The order of presentation is by the year of founding.

College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

The College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, founded in 1841, was the first duly constituted college of the University of Michigan. Today, with more than 15,000 undergraduate and 2,000 graduate students, LSA is the largest of the University's schools and colleges, and it is still the heart of the campus. Distinguished in the humanities since its earliest years, the college became preeminent in the natural sciences during the early 20th century and went on to become a world leader in social science research. The college has always been dedicated to providing a richly diverse liberal arts education that prepares students to lead fulfilling lives as responsible citizens within a wide range of professional careers.

Medical School

Since opening its doors in 1850, the Medical School has been a leader in medical education, patient care, and biomedical research. In addition to its professional doctor of medicine program, the Medical School offers master's and doctoral degrees in the basic medical sciences. The school established the nation's first university-owned and -operated teaching hospital and created the first departments of pharmacology and human genetics in the United States. It also played an important role in the development of the electrocardiogram and in the development of iodized salt as a goiter preventive. The Medical School was among the first major American medical schools to graduate women and African Americans; today there are more practicing M.D.s from the University of Michigan than from any other medical school in the United States.

Law School

Founded in 1859, the Law School awarded its first bachelor of laws degrees in 1860. In 1870, the school became the second in the nation to confer a law degree on an African American candidate and the first major law school to admit a woman. In 1871, one of the school's graduates became the first woman with a law degree to be admitted to the bar. A national law school from its earliest years, the school's graduates work in every state of the union and in more than 73 countries, in business, as practitioners and professors, as legislators and members of Congress, and as distinguished civil servants and members of the judiciary.

School of Dentistry

Established in 1875, the School of Dentistry first granted the professional degree, doctor of dental surgery, the following year. A national leader in the training of professional dentists and long active in oral and craniofacial research, the school offers the doctor of dental surgery, master's degrees, and graduate clinical programs in several dental specialties and general dentistry. A doctoral degree is offered in oral health sciences and in an interdepartmental program in biomaterials. The School of Dentistry also offers baccalaureate and master's programs in dental hygiene.

College of Pharmacy

Established as a department in 1868, Pharmacy became a college in 1876, the first in any university in the United States. Today, the college has an average annual enrollment of 330 doctor of pharmacy, 100 graduate, and 100 undergraduate students, and is consistently ranked among the top pharmacy schools in the nation. The college offers the doctor of pharmacy degree; baccalaureate program in pharmaceutical sciences; master's program in integrated pharmaceutical sciences; and doctor of philosophy programs in clinical pharmacy translational science, medicinal chemistry, and pharmaceutical sciences. Major areas of research include the biological, chemical, clinical, genomic, economic, and social aspects of drugs and therapeutic agents.

Horace H. Rackham
School of Graduate Studies

The Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies oversees and coordinates graduate education, bringing together graduate students and faculty from across the institution to experience and take full advantage of the University as a scholarly community. The University awarded its first master of arts degree in 1849, first master of science degree in 1859, and first doctor of philosophy degree in 1876. Organized as a department in 1892, the School of Graduate Studies became an autonomous unit in 1912. In 1935, a generous gift from Horace H. and Mary A. Rackham included the site and construction of the Rackham Building for graduate studies and a substantial endowment for carrying on graduate work and research.

Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy

The School of Public Policy prepares graduates for distinguished careers in policy analysis and management and promotes improved public policy through research. Its curriculum combines rigorous grounding in contemporary social science, opportunities to develop expertise in a variety of policy domains, and practical experience. Graduates work in government and the private and nonprofit sectors, using their knowledge, judgment, and new ideas to solve social problems, both domestic and international. The school traces its history to the Institute of Public Administration, established in 1914 as one of the first programs in municipal administration in the United States. In 1999, the regents approved the naming of the school in honor of Gerald R. Ford, the 38th President of the United States and a 1935 graduate of the University.

College of Engineering

Instruction began with a class in civil engineering in 1854. Historically, the College of Engineering has been a leader in establishing departments in emerging fields, including metallurgical engineering, naval architecture and marine engineering, electrical engineering, chemical engineering, aeronautical engineering, nuclear engineering, and computer engineering. Today, the college and its 85,000 alumni provide leadership in various technologies, health care, business, and the sciences, improving the quality of people's lives around the world.

School of Education

The School of Education was founded in 1921, 42 years after the University established the first chair in any United States collegiate institution devoted to the "science and art of teaching." The school prepares students for professional careers in teaching and administration, and offers advanced training for researchers and practitioners at all levels of education. Teacher diplomas were first offered in 1874; the first master's degree in education was conferred in 1891, the first Ph.D. in 1902, and the first Ed.D. in 1938.

Stephen M. Ross
School of Business

Building on faculty and course offerings that began in the latter part of the 19th century, the school was formally established in 1924. Today, at all levels of instruction—bachelor's, master's, doctoral, and executive education—its programs rank in the top five among American institutions. Each year nearly 1,000 new School of Business graduates enter careers as business professionals and teacher-scholars, joining the approximately 37,000 who already serve in leadership positions in business, government, and academic institutions throughout the world.

School for Environment and Sustainability

The clear-cutting of Michigan's densely forested wilderness was well under way when the University of Michigan began offering courses in forestry in 1881—the first university in the United States to do so. The year 1903 saw the creation of a Department of Forestry, forerunner of today's School for Environment and Sustainability (SEAS). The school's students and faculty organized the famous 1970 Teach-In on the Environment (the prototype of Earth Day), and incubated the scholarly disciplines of Environmental Justice, Environmental Education, and Environmental Informatics. From its inception as a forestry school to the interdisciplinary institution it is today, SEAS has always prepared leaders to understand and solve the major environmental challenges of the era.

School of Music, Theatre & Dance

Consistently ranked among the top performing arts schools in the nation, and one of the oldest, the School of Music, Theatre & Dance is committed to creating an environment of educational and artistic excellence, nurturing creativity, academic integrity, and professionalism in its students and faculty. With degrees offered at the bachelor's, master's, and doctoral levels, the School is deeply engaged in the creation, practice, scholarship, and pedagogy of music, theatre, and dance. It fosters a spirit of social responsibility and principled entrepreneurship, and serves the community and State of Michigan through public performances, cultural resources, arts education, and outreach programs.

A. Alfred Taubman College of Architecture and Urban Planning

Michigan offered its first courses in architecture in 1876. The program became a department in 1913, and by 1931, the College of Architecture was established as a separate entity. During the 1940s, the college was one of the few schools in the country to consider research a necessary part of architectural education, and in 1946 it became the first to introduce a graduate program in urban planning. The college offers master of architecture, master of urban planning, and master of urban design degrees; bachelor of science and master of science degrees in architecture; and doctoral programs in architecture and in urban and regional planning. In 1999, the college was named in honor of A. Alfred Taubman, founder and chairman of The Taubman Company, Inc., and a longtime friend, supporter, and adviser to the college.

School of Nursing

The University of Michigan School of Nursing (UMSN) is an international leader in the advancement of nursing knowledge and strategies to improve health care. In addition to the four-year BSN program and the second career in nursing program, UMSN has a robust offering of graduate programs. Students are prepared to be leaders in advanced clinical practice through our M.S.N. and post-baccalaureate Doctorate of Nursing Practice (DNP) programs. Students can also lead and effect change through the M.S.N. or post-masters DNP programs in systems, populations, and leadership. UMSN's prestigious Ph.D. and postdoctoral programs prepare nurse scientists to develop the knowledge necessary to support and advance nursing practice.

School of Public Health

Founded in 1941 and ranked among the country's top public health schools, the University of Michigan School of Public Health educates more than 1,000 graduate and undergraduate students each year. With over 170 faculty and researchers across six departments and numerous collaborative centers and institutes, the school brings interdisciplinary, innovative solutions to complex health challenges, including chronic and infectious diseases, obesity and food insecurity, health care quality and cost, climate change and environmental factors, and socioeconomic inequalities and their impact on health. Compassion, innovation, and inclusion drive the faculty, staff, students, and 15,000 alumni of Michigan Public Health to pursue positive change and lasting impact on the health of the world.

School of Social Work

The program in social work began in 1921, and was granted the status of a school in 1951. Faculty maintain high research productivity while teaching an innovative curriculum. At the master's level, the school prepares professional practitioners for work with individuals, children and their families, the aged, organizations, and communities. Students may focus their studies in the fields of substance abuse, mental health, education, child welfare, program evaluation, and public policy. The joint doctoral program in social work and social science is one of a kind and prepares students for academic and research careers. Graduates of both programs are found in leadership positions around the world. The School of Social Work consistently ranks as one of the best in the nation.

School of Information

A formal program began in 1926, when the Department of Library Science was created in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts. In 1948, offerings became entirely graduate and a doctoral program was inaugurated. Establishment of an independent school, committed to the interdisciplinary study of information and library principles, came in 1969. In response to the rapid change brought on by present technology, the school broadened significantly further in the 1990s. It now pursues a highly interdisciplinary approach to educate professionals who will serve as leaders in the information age. Recognizing this broader mission, the school was renamed the School of Information in 1996.

Penny W. Stamps
School of Art & Design

The Penny W. Stamps School of Art & Design traces its history at the University to visual arts education in the late 19th century, awarding its first degree in 1960, and becoming a University of Michigan school in 1974. In 2002, the school launched a unique curriculum that prompted the National Association of Schools of Art and Design to report, "The School of Art & Design and the University of Michigan have created an opportunity to lead the academic conversation in art and design in this country." The school prepares graduates for a broad range of creative professions through its undergraduate and graduate programs. Commitment to the integration of art and design, community engagement, international experience, connections to the academic resources of the University, interdisciplinary pursuit, and public presentation of creative work are required of all majors.

School of Kinesiology

Kinesiology has been part of the University of Michigan curriculum since the turn of the 20th century and joined the ranks for the schools and colleges as an independent unit in 1984. Concentrations have the common thread of human movement and span a wide range including movement science, physical education, sport management, and athletic training. Kinesiology prepares undergraduates for careers as diverse as medicine and physical therapy to athletic administration, marketing, and law. Master's and doctoral students expand their opportunities in higher education, research, health care, public health or medicine, business, and law.

CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES AND CERTIFICATES

The following is a list of the candidates for degrees to be granted upon completion of formal requirements. A candidate is listed alphabetically by degree, and in some cases also by field of specialization, under the school or college that awards the degree. In this book, candidates are presented in the order of which their respective schools or colleges were founded.

The Executive Board of the Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies awards doctoral, master's, and some graduate professional degrees (e.g., master of public policy, master of urban planning), although most graduate professional degrees, such as doctor of medicine, master of social work, etc., are awarded by the respective schools or colleges. The Graduate School does not offer course work, and advanced studies are conducted within the school or college of a candidate's area of specialization.

This book presents as complete and accurate a record of candidates for degrees as is possible as of the publication date.

HORACE H. RACKHAM SCHOOL OF GRADUATE STUDIES

Founded in 1912, Michael J. Solomon, Dean and Vice Provost for Academic Affairs–Graduate Studies

Doctor of Musical Arts

- Christine Amon, Field of Specialization: Music, Theatre, and Dance. Dissertation: Notes on Two Recitals and an Opera Role.
- Sarah Best, Field of Specialization: Music, Theatre, and Dance. Dissertation: Notes on Three Dissertation Performances: Opera and Recital in the Twenty-First Century
- Maggie Burk, Field of Specialization: Music, Theatre, and Dance. Dissertation: Summary of Dissertation Recitals: Three Choral Programs.
- Corey Dundee, Field of Specialization: Music, Theatre, and Dance. Dissertation: act like you know for Orchestra.
- Kimberly Jean Fleming, Field of Specialization: Music, Theatre, and Dance. Dissertation: Summary of Three Dissertation Recitals.
- David Hahn, Field of Specialization: Music, Theatre, and Dance. Dissertation: Summary of Dissertation Recitals: Three Programs of Choral Music.
- Michael Kropf, Field of Specialization: Music, Theatre, and Dance. Dissertation: Moses in Nederland - Music For Violin Soloist and Orchestra.
- Yuting Ma, Field of Specialization: Music, Theatre, and Dance. Dissertation: Summary of Three Dissertation Recitals.
- JoAnn Marie Wieszczyk, Field of Specialization: Music, Theatre, and Dance. Dissertation: There and Back Again: A Journey Through Three Dissertation Recitals.

Doctor of Philosophy

- Sara Renee Abelson, Field of Specialization: Health Behavior And Health Education. Dissertation: Mental Health Equity in Higher Education: The Role of Policy, Policing, and Visible Inclusion.
- Nickolas Jordan Adamowicz, Field of Specialization: Nuclear Engineering and Radiological Sciences. Dissertation: The NILO-CMFD Method for Iteratively Solving Coupled Neutron Transport-Thermal Hydraulics Problems
- Tyler James Adkins, Field of Specialization: Psychology. Dissertation: Cognitive Contributions to Incentive-motivated Action.
- Jason Max Albert, Field of Specialization: Pharmaceutical Sciences. Dissertation: Metal - HisTag Coordination for Remote Loading of Biomacromolecules into PLGA Microspheres.
- Nasser Aldaghri, Field of Specialization: Electrical and Computer Engineering. Dissertation: Key Generation and Secure Coding in Communications and Private Learning.
- Stefania Tiziana Almazán Casali, Field of Specialization: Environment and Sustainability. Dissertation: Investigating the Complex Nature of Power in Water Governance: A Framework for Incorporating Typologies of Power Into the Study of Socio-Hydrological Systems.
- John Stephen Andre, Field of Specialization: Chemistry. Dissertation: Elucidating the Influence of Surface Treatments, Material Functionalization, and Additives on Adhesion at Buried Interfaces.
- Ramin Ansari, Field of Specialization: Chemical Engineering. Dissertation: Computational Molecular Design for Developing Metal-Free Organic Emissive Materials.
- Harleen Athwal, Field of Specialization: Oral Health Sciences. Dissertation: Sox10 as a Regulator of Progenitor Plasticity in Exocrine Salivary Glands.
- Giorgianna Auteri, Field of Specialization: Ecology and Evolutionary Biology. Dissertation: Evolution and Conservation in a Changing World: Empirical and Conceptual Lessons from Bats, Salamanders, and Beyond.
- Alex Mohamed Ayoub, Field of Specialization: Chemical Biology. Dissertation: Structural and Biochemical Mechanisms of MLL1 Activation on Chromatin.
- Devika Priya Bagchi, Field of Specialization: Molecular and Integrative Physiology. Dissertation: Investigating the Roles of Wnt Signaling in Mature Adipocyte Function.
- Subramaniam Balakrishna, Field of Specialization: Mechanical Engineering. Dissertation: Optimal Capillary Rheometer Methods for Newtonian Fluids.
- Samuel Nathan Baltz, Field of Specialization: Political Science and Scientific Computing. Dissertation: Computer Simulations of Elections, With Applications to Understanding Electoral System Reform.
- Shurjo Banerjee, Field of Specialization: Electrical and Computer Engineering. Dissertation: Towards Improving Deep Vision and Language Navigation.
- Alison Leigh Banka, Field of Specialization: Chemical Engineering. Dissertation: Exploring and Modulating Platelet Adhesion and Platelet-Cell Interactions in Health and Disease.
- Vincent Michael Battista, Field of Specialization: Anthropology. Dissertation: Genetic and Morphological Evidence for Local Climate Adaptation in the Americas.
- Dan Berger, Field of Specialization: Educational Studies. Dissertation: Using Evidence to Understand and Improve Instruction and Schools: Multiple Methods and Comparative Perspectives.
- Gideon H. Billings, Field of Specialization: Robotics. Dissertation: Visual Methods Towards Autonomous Underwater Manipulation.
- Fabienne Rosa Patricia Birkle, Field of Specialization: Biological Chemistry. Dissertation: Regulation of Serine Proteases in Blood Clotting and Beyond.
- Connor Bolton, Field of Specialization: Computer Science and Engineering. Dissertation: Protecting the Security of Sensor Systems.
- Rawan Bonais, Field of Specialization: Linguistics. Dissertation: The Role of Transfer/Substrate Influence in the Development of Gulf Pidgin Arabic.

Dear Graduate:

On behalf of the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan, congratulations on your momentous achievement.

You have faced unique challenges during this unprecedented time, but that doesn't diminish the goal you have realized after years of hard work. You have earned a place among the 640,000-plus Leaders and Best in 180 countries across the globe.

As a graduation gift, we give you a complimentary one-year membership to help you maintain a strong, meaningful connection back to the University and alumni for years to come. Visit alumni.umich.edu to keep the spirit of U-M close and connect to the powerful global network of U-M alumni.

On behalf of the entire U-M family, we extend our congratulations on a job well done at Michigan. And welcome to the Wolverine family!

Sincerely,

Kathleen Wilson-Thompson, '79

Nondiscrimination Policy Statement

The University of Michigan, as an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination and affirmative action. The University of Michigan is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all persons and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, religion, height, weight, or veteran status in employment, educational programs and activities, and admissions. Inquiries or complaints may be addressed to the Senior Director for Institutional Equity, and Title IX/Section 504/ADA Coordinator, Office for Institutional Equity, 2072 Administrative Services Building, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48109-1432, 734-763-0235, TTY 734-647-1388, institutional.equity@umich.edu. For other University of Michigan information call 734-764-1817.

Freedom of Expression Statement

Thank you for attending this program. The University of Michigan strives to create a truly open forum, one in which diverse opinions can be expressed and heard.

It is the right of members of the university community, speakers, artists and other invited guests to express their views and opinions at the university. We will protect the right of individuals to speak or perform, and the rights of those members of the University community who wish to hear and communicate with an invited speaker or artist.

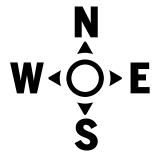

Protesters also have a right to express their opposition to a speaker in appropriate ways, both within the confines of this building and outside the facility. However, protesters must not interfere unduly with communication between a speaker or artist and members of the audience.

If the hosts of this event or university representatives believe that protesters are interfering unduly with a speaker or performer's freedom of expression, those protesters will be warned. If the warnings are not heeded and the interference continues, then the individuals responsible may be removed from the building.

We reaffirm these policies in order to most fully protect the rights of free expression for speakers, performers and protesters alike, as set forth by our Civil Liberties Board in our Student Handbook, and in accordance with the U-M Standard Practice Guide; Regents' Ordinance Article XII, Section 1; and state statutes.
