SPRING COMMENCEMENT
UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

May 3, 2014
10:00 a.m.

This program includes a list of the candidates for degrees to be granted upon completion of formal requirements. Candidates for graduate degrees are recommended jointly by the Executive Board of the Graduate School and the faculty of the school or college awarding the degree. Following the School of Graduate Studies, schools are listed in order of their founding. Candidates within those schools are listed by degree then by specialization, if applicable.

Maestro José Antonio Abreu, world-renowned composer, conductor, educator, and economist, founded the acclaimed music education program National System of Youth and Children’s Orchestras and Choirs of Venezuela, better known as El Sistema, 39 years ago. Since then, El Sistema has trained more than a million young Venezuelan musicians through a network of orchestras, choirs, and other musical organizations. Born in Valera, Venezuela, he studied piano, organ, and harpsichord, graduating from Venezuela’s National Conservatory of Music in 1957. He also earned two degrees from the Universidad Católica Andrés Bello, an undergraduate degree in economics and a doctorate in petroleum economics (1961), and took graduate courses at the University of Michigan. Dr. Abreu pursued successful parallel careers in music and economics, earning the prestigious Symphonic Music National Prize of Venezuela in 1967, and teaching at the Universidad Católica Andrés Bello and the Universidad Simón Bolívar. His influence grew with his election to the Venezuelan Chamber of Deputies in the Congress of Venezuela. In 1975, he launched El Sistema, an intense music education program dedicated to the principle that art should transcend politics, and that music education should be egalitarian and open to all students, regardless of their financial resources. One of the system’s remarkable features is the students’ quick immersion in music; children ages two to 18 perform in ensembles shortly after they pick up their instruments. They often practice two or three hours a day and soon learn the importance of supporting each other in a common aim: artistic expression. El Sistema, with more than 320 training centers throughout Venezuela, is inspiring similar programs elsewhere, including Ann Arbor. U-M’s School of Music, Theatre & Dance, collaborating with the School of Social Work and School of Education, recently launched a pilot inspired by El Sistema at Ann Arbor’s Mitchell Elementary School as part of the University’s “Third Century Initiative,” established to inspire innovative programs that enhance learning and develop creative approaches to the world’s great challenges. Many outstanding professional musicians have emerged from El Sistema. One of the most prominent, Gustavo Dudamel, is the music director of the Simón Bolívar Symphony Orchestra of Venezuela and the Los Angeles Philharmonic. Dr. Abreu has received many honors, including the Glenn Gould Prize, Puccini International Prize, and honorary memberships in the Royal Philharmonic Society and the Beethoven-Haus Society. The Royal Swedish Academy of Music recognized him with the Polar Music Prize in 2009 for creating “a new hope for the future,” and in 2013 he received the Culture of Peace Special Award from the Goi Peace Foundation. When he received a B’nai B’rith Human Rights Award in 2008, Dr. Abreu declared we should “reveal to our children the beauty of music, and music shall reveal to our children the beauty of life.”

Maestro Abreu, you are transforming the world, one child at a time, through the astonishing music education program El Sistema, which has allowed more than a million children from all backgrounds to play in orchestras, sing in choruses, and learn that, indeed, the beauty of music will show them the beauty of life. You have demonstrated that a civilization with art and respect at its core will have a robust and vibrant future, sustained by the triumph of shared brilliance. The University of Michigan is proud to welcome you back to present to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Music.
Honorary Degree Recipient

Mary Barra

Mary Barra became chief executive officer of General Motors Company on January 15, 2014, extending a rich history of firsts for GM and Ms. Barra. As the first woman to lead a major automaker, she has established an exemplary career in the predominantly male world of the auto industry. She is recognized internationally for her vision, business acumen, engineering skills, leadership, and passion for automobiles. Ms. Barra grew up in Waterford, Michigan, in a General Motors family. Her father was a tool and die maker at Pontiac Motor Division for 39 years. Her own automotive career began as a General Motors Institute co-op student, interning at a Pontiac, Michigan plant. She earned a B.S. degree in electrical engineering (1985) from the General Motors Institute, since renamed Kettering University and where she now serves on the board of trustees. With the support of a GM fellowship, she received an M.B.A. degree (1990) from Stanford University. Ms. Barra has held several key roles at GM, including plant manager at Detroit Hamtramck Assembly and vice president positions in both global human resources and global manufacturing. As part of GM's management team, Ms. Barra helped lead the automaker back to profitability following the Great Recession of 2007-2009. Since 2009, GM has announced investments of more than $10.2 billion in 35 U.S. facilities, the majority in Michigan. These investments have helped create or retain more than 26,500 jobs. General Motors now has 219,000 employees worldwide and, with more than 44,000 employees throughout the state, is one of Michigan’s largest employers. As executive vice president of Global Product Development and Global Purchasing and Supply Chain, Ms. Barra was responsible for the design, engineering, program management, and quality of GM cars, trucks, and crossover vehicles around the world. She strengthened GM’s product development process by flattening the bureaucracy and fostering new levels of teamwork by leveraging global design and engineering resources. Under her leadership, the GM Product Development team created award-winning products like the Corvette Stingray, Cadillac ATS and CTS, and the Chevy Silverado. Ms. Barra also has championed fuel-efficient engines and lighter-weight vehicles like the Chevy Spark electric vehicle. Described as a great listener, forward-thinker, and high achiever, she is known for her inclusive management style and eagerness to challenge the status quo. She serves on the boards of the Barbara Ann Karmanos Cancer Institute and General Dynamics, and recently was elected to the Stanford Graduate School of Business Advisory Council. She ranks No. 1 on Fortune magazine’s 2014 list of the “50 Most Powerful Women in Business.” She also has been listed among Forbes magazine’s “World’s 100 Most Powerful Women” and Automotive News’ “100 Leading Women in the North American Auto Industry.” She received the Kettering Alumni Association’s Management Achievement Award in 2010 and the SAE Foundation Industry Leadership Award in 2013 for her support and commitment to science, technology, engineering, and mathematics education.

Ms. Barra, during your illustrious career at General Motors you have demonstrated what can be achieved through vision, energy, expertise, and leadership in technology and engineering. You have made extraordinary contributions to the automotive industry, the state of Michigan, the nation, and the world as an engineer, business leader, and role model. The University of Michigan is pleased to present to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Engineering.
James L. Curtis

Throughout an exemplary career as a psychiatrist, teacher, and philanthropist, University of Michigan alumnus James Curtis has demonstrated a lifelong commitment to social justice and increasing opportunity for people in poverty, regardless of their race or gender. Born in Jeffersonville, Georgia, Dr. Curtis grew up in Albion, Michigan, and earned a B.A. degree (1943) at Albion College, where he was a champion debater. With the nation at war, he completed basic training and was expected to go to engineering school when an Albion biology professor contacted a U-M colleague and recommended, instead, that his promising student be admitted to U-M Medical School. Dr. Curtis earned his M.D. in 1946. The only black student in his class, he graduated in the top fifth. After completing his residency at a state-run psychiatric hospital in Wayne County, Michigan, Dr. Curtis pursued an illustrious career as a clinician, educator, and administrator, serving first at the Long Island College of Medicine and then Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn in New York City. He was associate dean of student affairs at Cornell Medical School for 10 years before joining the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, where he was director of the department and supervised psychiatry training at Harlem Hospital Center for 20 years. He retired in 2003 as clinical professor emeritus of psychiatry and returned to Albion with his wife, the late Vivian Curtis, who earned an M.S.W. degree (1948) at U-M. Dr. Curtis has published articles in peer-reviewed journals and authored two important books, Blacks, Medical Schools, and Society (1971) and Affirmative Action in Medicine: Improving Health Care for Everyone (2003), both published by the U-M Press. His second book evaluates the outcome and effectiveness of affirmative action in medical education and practice over a 30-year period. In 2007, Dr. and Mrs. Curtis, who shared a lifetime of collaboration blending medicine and social work, funded the Vivian A. and James L. Curtis School of Social Work Research and Training Center. The center supports faculty engaged in research that creates social change by advancing society’s understanding and treatment of behavioral and physical health conditions, with special emphasis on research to improve the lives of underserved populations. The Curtis Center hosts more than 30 projects, including partnerships with the Washtenaw County Sheriff Department, the Michigan Department of Human Services, and community agencies, among others. The highly regarded center has positively influenced the development of scholars involved in community-based research, including many undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral students who have benefited from the hands-on research training the center provides. Dr. and Mrs. Curtis also have been generous supporters of the U-M Museum of Art. Their gift made possible the James L. and Vivian A. Curtis Gallery of African and African American Art, launched in 1998. Dr. Curtis continues to serve others. He is working to create a home and social service program in Albion for pregnant teenagers. His goal is to provide a home and support for the women and their children.

Dr. Curtis, as a successful Michigan alumnus, physician, champion of social justice, and philanthropist, you inspire us with your energy, vision, leadership, and generosity. We applaud your numerous contributions to medicine, education, and research through which you have enhanced our understanding of mental illness, behavioral and physical health, and affirmative action. The University of Michigan is pleased to welcome you back to campus and proud to award you the honorary degree, Doctor of Science.
Honorary Degree Recipient

Adele Goldberg

University of Michigan alumna, computer scientist, and entrepreneur Adele Goldberg is one of the pioneers of computer science and personal computing. She is widely known for her innovative breakthroughs in computer science, especially in the areas of object-oriented programming, programming language theory, and development of the personal computer. Currently, Dr. Goldberg, founder and director of the consulting firm Neometron, Inc., and technology adviser in the health care private equity firm Pharma Capital Partners, is working on new ways for virtual communities to support collaboration. Dr. Goldberg was born in Cleveland, Ohio, and grew up in Chicago. She earned a bachelor’s degree in mathematics (1967) at U-M, where her interest in educational technology was piqued at the Center for Research on Learning and Teaching. She earned a master’s degree (1968) and doctorate (1973), both in information science, from the University of Chicago. Her dissertation was based on her research at the Stanford University Institute for Mathematical Studies in the Social Sciences. She joined Xerox as a researcher in 1973 at its famous Palo Alto Research Center (PARC), where she managed the System Concepts Laboratory. Dr. Goldberg, along with Alan Kay, revolutionized computer programming in the late 1970s with development of Smalltalk-80, the first fully object-oriented programming language. Smalltalk was designed to enable both professionals and learners to rapidly create sophisticated systems by reusing elements of existing software, including the first libraries of objects and tools that enabled graphical user interface design. She left PARC in 1988 to co-found ParcPlace Systems, where she led efforts to commercialize Smalltalk-80 technology. She served as ParcPlace Systems’ chief executive officer and president until 1991 and as chair until 1995. Dr. Goldberg has written books and articles and lectured extensively on project management and analysis and design methods to implement and advance object-oriented technology. Before founding Neometron, she served as chief technology officer and new development manager at AgileMind, Inc., from 2002 to 2006. The educational technology company was formed to enhance equity and high achievement in secondary school math and science. In the wider computing community, Dr. Goldberg served as president of the Association for Computing Machinery (ACM) from 1984 to 1986 and as editor of the ACM journal Computer Surveys. She received the ACM Systems Software Award with Alan Kay and Dan Ingalls in 1987 and was named an ACM fellow in 1994. She continues to pursue her long-standing interest in education, most notably at the University of Chicago, where she is a member of the advisory board at the Booth School of Business Polsky Center for Entrepreneurship and Innovation and chair of the Physical Sciences Division’s Alumni Innovation Network. The University of Chicago awarded her its Alumni Professional Achievement Award in 2012. Dr. Goldberg, a member of the Women in Technology International Hall of Fame, has received many other honors, including the PC Magazine 1990 Lifetime Achievement Award, the Reed College Howard Vollum Award, and the Dr. Dobb’s Magazine Excellence in Programming Award.

Dr. Goldberg, your pioneering contributions to the development of personal computing have changed the way we live, work, and play. As a leader and role model in computer science, you inspire us with your vision, creativity, entrepreneurial skills, and steadfast commitment to improve technology. The University of Michigan is delighted to welcome you back to campus and proud to present to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Science.
Honorary Degree Recipient

Daniel Okrent

In an exemplary and storied career, University of Michigan alumnus Daniel Okrent has excelled as an author, editor of books and periodicals, journalist, and cultural historian. He also advanced the field of media criticism as the New York Times’ first public editor. Born and raised in Detroit, he was a features editor at The Michigan Daily in the late 1960s. After earning his B.A. degree (1969), he moved to New York City, where he was an editor at Alfred A. Knopf, Inc., and Viking Press and editor-in-chief at Harcourt Brace, Inc. Additionally, he founded New England Monthly, which won the National Magazine Award for General Excellence in 1986 and 1987. He also was managing editor of Life magazine and new media editor and then editor-at-large at Time Inc., retiring in 2001 to write Great Fortune: The Epic of Rockefeller Center (2004). The book was a finalist for the 2004 Pulitzer Prize in history. Mr. Okrent, an avid sports fan, edited The Ultimate Baseball Book (1979, revised in 2000), wrote Nine Innings (1985), and co-authored Baseball Anecdotes (1989). In 1980, he invented Rotisserie League baseball, which initiated the fantasy sports craze. He also was a commentator for Ken Burns’ PBS Baseball series. Mr. Okrent wrote The Way We Were: New England Then, New England Now (1989) and Last Call: The Rise and Fall of Prohibition (2011), which won the American Historical Association’s Albert J. Beveridge Prize. He curated the 2012 exhibition “American Spirits: The Rise and Fall of Prohibition” for the National Constitution Center in Philadelphia and was senior creative consultant for Burns’ PBS documentary Prohibition. In 2003, Mr. Okrent was named the New York Times’ first public editor, a position created in response to the revelation a reporter had fabricated stories. Working unfettered by management or coworkers’ opinions, Mr. Okrent evaluated the paper’s accuracy and objectivity. His columns subsequently were published in Public Editor Number One: The Collected Columns (with Reflections, Reconsiderations, and Even a Few Retractions) of the First Ombudsman of The New York Times (2006). Mr. Okrent has performed in two feature films, Sweet and Lowdown and The Hoax. He also co-created and co-produced the off-Broadway show Old Jews Telling Jokes. A loyal alumnus, Mr. Okrent has critiqued The Michigan Daily at the editors’ request and has been an invited speaker at Knight-Wallace Fellows programs and the Penny W. Stamps Speaker Series. He was honored as the Hearst Foundation Visiting Fellow in New Media at the Columbia University School of Journalism and the Edward R. Murrow Visiting Lecturer on Press, Politics, and Policy at Harvard University’s John F. Kennedy School of Government. Mr. Okrent is a trustee of Cooper Union for the Advancement of Science and Art, a member of the Authors Guild board, and a board member and past chair of the Smithsonian Institution National Portrait Gallery. He was elected a Society of American Historians fellow in 2011.

Mr. Okrent, as one of our nation’s most respected public intellectuals, you are recognized for your wit, integrity, informative and engaging books and films, and contributions to literature, history, journalism, and sports, particularly baseball. We enthusiastically recognize and celebrate the many and varied ways you have enriched our nation’s cultural life. The University of Michigan is proud to welcome you back to campus to present to you the honorary degree, Doctor of Humane Letters.
Honorary Degree Recipient

Marshall Weinberg

Marshall Weinberg, businessman, humanitarian, philanthropist, and University of Michigan alumnus, exemplifies the Michigan tradition of leadership and service to society. He is deeply committed to the University and higher education, international justice, and women’s reproductive rights. After earning a B.A. degree in philosophy (1950) from U-M, he studied philosophy at Harvard University and business at the Columbia Graduate School of Business. Knowledge of philosophy and investment fundamentals anchored his successful career with the New York investment firm Herzfeld & Stern. Throughout his life he has worked to raise awareness and funds to improve the lives of people around the world. Among organizations that have benefitted from his leadership are the United Jewish Appeal, where he served as national vice chair, and the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee. He has served on the board of the Myers-JDC-Brookdale Institute in Israel, which engages in applied research and where he has employed his “Michigan model” of graduate student support to impact new generations of scholars. He also has fostered dialogue at international conferences, including “Utilizing Research to Promote Opportunities for Arab Children and Youth in Israel” in 2003 and “Arab Women and Girls in Israel: Obstacles, Opportunities, and Strategies for Change in Health, Education, and Employment” in 2005. U-M’s College of Literature, Science, and the Arts (LSA), the Institute for Social Research (ISR), and the School of Natural Resources and Environment (SNRE) all have benefited from his service and philanthropy. Mr. Weinberg served as vice chair of the National Leadership Cabinet and co-chaired the Tri-State Campaign Leadership Committee for U-M’s successful 2004–2008 Michigan Difference Campaign. In 2008, he received the David B. Hermelin Award for Fundraising Volunteer Leadership, recognizing him as one of the University’s top volunteers. In addition to serving on the LSA Dean’s Advisory Committee and Honors Program Advisory Committee, Mr. Weinberg has made many transformational gifts, including endowing the Weinberg Program in Cognitive Science in LSA, an interdisciplinary program that combines philosophy, psychology, biology, and linguistics and builds on the annual Marshall Weinberg Cognitive Science Symposium. In the Department of Philosophy, he has endowed a distinguished visiting professorship, graduate fellowships, and graduate student awards such as the Frankena and Stevenson Prizes, honoring illustrious U-M philosophers William Frankena and Charles Stevenson. Additionally, he provides financial support for graduate education in LSA’s Jean & Samuel Frankel Center for Judaic Studies and the Department of Anthropology. Long concerned about how overpopulation issues, especially malnutrition, poor health, lack of education, and women’s reproductive rights, affect societies and the environment, Mr. Weinberg has established endowments in SNRE and ISR’s Population Studies Center to fund researchers, students, and postdoctoral fellows conducting research in these critical areas. He also supports the American Museum of Natural History Center for Biodiversity and Conservation.

Mr. Weinberg, as a passionate student of philosophy and true Renaissance man, you have demonstrated in business and with your many acts of generosity the wisdom of Spinoza, who advised, “You must look at things in the aspect of eternity.” One of the most significant supporters of graduate students at U-M, you have made a powerful and positive difference in thousands of lives through your service and philanthropy. The University of Michigan is proud to welcome you back and to award you the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws.

The University Mace

The University’s mace, a symbol of authority, is carried at the head of academic processions on such important ceremonial occasions as commencements, convocations, and inaugurations. The mace being used today was given to the University in 1968 by the Senior Board, representing all the undergraduate schools and colleges. Crafted of red oak and trimmed with silver, the mace features the seals of the University and of the State of Michigan. Also engraved on the mace are the names of the University Presidents.

Mingled colors distinguish combined curriculums.

Academic Dress and Custom

The colorful gowns and hoods worn by faculty members at commencement and other academic ceremonies represent the degrees, disciplines, and alma maters of the wearers. The American academic costume tradition, imported from England, dates to Colonial days.

Gowns

Bachelor’s or master’s degree gowns traditionally are black, as are many doctoral gowns in the United States. Some universities prescribe that their graduates wear gowns of another solid color such as blue, crimson, or green. Gowns differ in sleeve cut and trim. For example, the bachelor’s gown has long, pointed sleeves while the master’s gown has oblong sleeves. Doctoral gowns, with their distinctive bell-shaped sleeves, feature velvet panels down the front and around the neck, as well as crossbars of velvet on the sleeves. Colored trim denotes the field or discipline in which the degree was earned. Usually only a single degree from one institution is indicated by a garment. If more than one degree is held, the gown and hood of the higher or highest degree usually are worn.

Hoods

The hood most precisely describes the wearer’s level of degree earned, the major field of learning, and the alma mater. The level of the degree held is indicated by the hood’s shape and size and the width of its velvet or velveteen trimming. The bachelor’s, master’s, and doctor’s hoods are 36 inches, 42 inches, and 48 inches long, respectively. The velvet trim is two, three, and five inches wide, with the narrowest being for the bachelor’s hood and the widest for the doctor’s hood. The color of trim on the hood, as on the gown, identifies the major field of learning in which the degree was awarded. The hood is lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree.

Caps

Caps vary in style from the traditional black mortarboard to eight-, six-, and four-corner tams, and Elizabethan-style caps. The mortarboard may be of any appropriate material, such as cotton, poplin, rayon, or silk, to match the gown. Velvet is reserved for holders of doctorates.
The order of presentation is by the year of founding.

College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

The College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, founded in 1841, was the first duly constituted college of the University of Michigan. Today, with more than 15,000 undergraduate and 2,000 graduate students, LSA is the largest of the University’s schools and colleges, and it is still the heart of the campus. Distinguished in the humanities since its earliest years, the college became preeminent in the natural sciences during the early 20th century and went on to become a world leader in social science research. The college has always been dedicated to providing a richly diverse liberal arts education that prepares students to lead fulfilling lives as responsible citizens within a wide range of professional careers.

Medical School

Since opening its doors in 1850, the Medical School has been a leader in medical education, patient care, and biomedical research. In addition to its professional doctor of medicine program, the Medical School offers master’s and doctoral degrees in the basic medical sciences. The school established the nation’s first University-owned and operated teaching hospital and created the first departments of pharmacology and human genetics in the United States. It also played an important role in the development of the electrocardiogram and in the development of iodized salt as a goiter preventive. The Medical School was among the first major American medical schools to graduate women and African Americans; today there are more practicing M.D.s from the University of Michigan than from any other medical school in the United States.

Law School

Founded in 1859, the Law School awarded its first bachelor of laws degrees in 1860. In 1870, the school became the second in the nation to confer a law degree on an African American candidate and the first major law school to admit a woman. In 1871, one of the school’s graduates became the first woman with a law degree to be admitted to the bar. A national law school from its earliest years, the school’s graduates work in every state of the union and in more than 73 countries, in business, as practitioners and professors, as legislators and members of Congress, and as distinguished civil servants and members of the judiciary.

School of Dentistry

Established in 1875, the School of Dentistry first granted the professional degree, doctor of dental surgery, the following year. A national leader in the training of professional dentists and long active in oral and craniofacial research, the school offers the doctor of dental surgery, master’s degrees, and graduate clinical programs in several dental specialties and general dentistry. A doctoral degree is offered in oral health sciences and in an interdepartmental program in biomaterials. The School of Dentistry also offers baccalaureate and master’s programs in dental hygiene.

College of Pharmacy

Established as a department in 1868, Pharmacy became a college in 1876, the first in any university in the United States. Today, the college has an average annual enrollment of 260 doctor of pharmacy and 70 graduate students, and is consistently ranked among the top pharmacy schools in the nation. The college offers the doctor of pharmacy degree; baccalaureate programs in medicinal chemistry and pharmaceutical sciences; and doctor of philosophy programs in medicinal chemistry, pharmaceutical sciences, and social and administrative sciences. Major areas of research include the biological, chemical, clinical, genomic, economic, and social aspects of drugs and therapeutic agents.
Instruction began with a class in civil engineering in 1854. Historically, the College of Engineering has been a leader in establishing departments in emerging fields, including metallurgical engineering, naval architecture and marine engineering, electrical engineering, chemical engineering, aeronautical engineering, nuclear engineering, and computer engineering. Today, the college and its 60,000 alumni provide leadership in various technologies, healthcare, business, and the sciences, improving the quality of people's lives around the world.

The Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies oversees and coordinates graduate education, bringing together graduate students and faculty from across the institution to experience and take full advantage of the University as a scholarly community. The University awarded its first master of arts degree in 1849, first master of science degree in 1859, and first doctor of philosophy degree in 1876. Organized as a department in 1892, the School of Graduate Studies became an autonomous unit in 1913. In 1935, a generous gift from Horace H. and Mary A. Rackham included the site and construction of the Rackham Building for graduate studies and a substantial endowment for carrying on graduate work and research.

Michigan offered its first courses in architecture in 1876. The program became a department in 1913, and by 1931, the College of Architecture was established as a separate entity. During the 1940s, the college was one of the few schools in the country to consider research a necessary part of architectural education, and in 1946 it became the first to introduce a graduate program in urban planning. The college offers master of architecture, master of urban planning, and master of urban design degrees; bachelor of science and master of science degrees in architecture; and doctoral programs in architecture and in urban and regional planning. In 1999, the college was named in honor of A. Alfred Taubman, founder and chairman of The Taubman Company, Inc., and a longtime friend, supporter, and adviser to the college.

The School of Education was founded in 1921, 42 years after the University established the first chair in any United States collegiate institution devoted to the “science and art of teaching.” The school prepares students for professional careers in teaching and administration, and offers advanced training for researchers and practitioners at all levels of education. Teacher diplomas were first offered in 1874; the first master's degree in education was conferred in 1891, the first Ph.D. in 1902, and the first Ed.D. in 1938.

Building on faculty and course offerings that began in the latter part of the 19th century, the school was formally established in 1924. Today, at all levels of instruction—bachelor’s, master’s, doctoral, and executive education—its programs rank in the top five among American institutions. Each year nearly 1,000 new School of Business graduates enter careers as business professionals and teacher-scholars, joining the approximately 37,000 who already serve in leadership positions in business, government, and academic institutions throughout the world.

The School of Natural Resources and Environment’s overarching objective is to contribute to the protection of the Earth’s resources and the achievement of a sustainable society. Through research, teaching, and outreach, faculty, staff, and students are devoted to generating new knowledge and developing policies, techniques, and skills to help practitioners manage and conserve natural resources to meet the full range of human needs on a sustainable basis. The school jointly administers the undergraduate Program in the Environment, and it offers master’s and doctoral programs in ecological, social, and design sciences.
Consistently ranked among the top performing arts schools in the nation, and one of the oldest, the School of Music, Theatre & Dance is committed to creating an environment of educational and artistic excellence, nurturing creativity, academic integrity, and professionalism in its students and faculty. With degrees offered at the bachelor’s, master’s, and doctoral levels, the school is deeply engaged in the creation, practice, scholarship, and pedagogy of music, theatre, and dance. It fosters a spirit of social responsibility and principled entrepreneurship, and serves the community and state of Michigan through public performances, cultural resources, arts education, and outreach programs.

The School of Nursing has held an unsurpassed reputation of excellence for more than 100 years. It has been a national leader in the advancement of nursing knowledge and the promotion of new trends in health care. The school’s baccalaureate programs include a four-year B.S.N. program, a second career nursing program, and an R.N.-B.S.N. completion program. At the master’s level, the School of Nursing, through the Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies, offers advanced study in clinical specialist, nurse practitioner, and management roles. The school’s prestigious Ph.D. and postdoctoral programs prepare nurse scientists to develop the knowledge necessary to support and advance nursing practice.

The history of the School of Public Health dates back to 1881, when the first course in sanitary science was taught in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts. Established in 1941, the school has awarded master of public health, master of science, master of health services administration, and doctor of public health degrees to more than 13,000 students. Doctor of philosophy programs were established in 1947 and now include concentrations in biostatistics, environmental health sciences, epidemiology, health behavior and health education, and health management and policy. Key areas of research include vaccine development, air and water quality, reproductive and women’s health, and health care costs, quality, and access.

The program in social work began in 1921, and was granted the status of a school in 1951. Faculty maintain high research productivity while teaching an innovative curriculum. At the master’s level, the school prepares professional practitioners for work with individuals, children and their families, the aged, organizations, and communities. Students may focus their studies in the fields of substance abuse, mental health, education, child welfare, program evaluation, and public policy. The joint doctoral program in social work and social science is one of a kind and prepares students for academic and research careers. Graduates of both programs are found in leadership positions around the world. The School of Social Work consistently ranks as one of the best in the nation.

A formal program began in 1926, when the Department of Library Science was created in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts. In 1948, offerings became entirely graduate and a doctoral program was inaugurated. Establishment of an independent school, committed to the interdisciplinary study of information and library principles, came in 1969. In response to the rapid change brought on by present technology, the school broadened significantly further in the 1990s. It now pursues a highly interdisciplinary approach to educate professionals who will serve as leaders in the information age. Recognizing this broader mission, the school was renamed the School of Information in 1996.
The Penny W. Stamps School of Art & Design traces its history at the University to visual arts education in the late 19th century, awarding its first degree in 1960, and becoming a University of Michigan school in 1974. In 2002, the school launched a unique curriculum that prompted the National Association of Schools of Art and Design to report, “The School of Art & Design and the University of Michigan have created an opportunity to lead the academic conversation in art and design in this country.” The school prepares graduates for a broad range of creative professions through its undergraduate and graduate programs. Commitment to the integration of art and design, community engagement, international experience, connections to the academic resources of the University, interdisciplinary pursuit, and public presentation of creative work are required of all majors.

Kinesiology has been part of the University of Michigan curriculum since the turn of the 20th century and joined the ranks for the schools and colleges as an independent unit in 1984. Concentrations have the common thread of human movement and span a wide range including movement science, physical education, sport management, and athletic training. Kinesiology prepares undergraduates for careers as diverse as medicine and physical therapy to athletic administration, marketing, and law. Master's and doctoral students expand their opportunities in higher education, research, health care, public health or medicine, business, and law.

The School of Public Policy prepares graduates for distinguished careers in policy analysis and management, and promotes improved public policy through research. Its curriculum combines rigorous grounding in contemporary social science, opportunities to develop expertise in a variety of policy domains, and practical experience. Graduates work in government and the private and nonprofit sectors, using their knowledge, judgment, and new ideas to solve social problems, both domestic and international. The school traces its history to the Institute of Public Administration, established in 1914 as one of the first programs in municipal administration in the United States. In 1999, the regents approved the naming of the school in honor of Gerald R. Ford, the 38th President of the United States and a 1935 graduate of the University.

Candidates for Degrees and Certificates

The following is a list of the candidates for degrees to be granted upon completion of formal requirements. A candidate is listed alphabetically by degree, and in some cases also by field of specialization, under the school or college which awards the degree. In the commencement ceremony, candidates are presented in the order of which their respective schools or colleges were founded.

The Executive Board of the Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies awards doctoral, master's, and some graduate professional degrees (e.g., master of public policy, master of urban planning), although most graduate professional degrees, such as doctor of medicine, master of social work, etc., are awarded by the respective schools or colleges. The Graduate School does not offer course work, and advanced studies are conducted within the school or college of a candidate’s area of specialization.

This program presents as complete and accurate a record of candidates for degrees as is possible as of the publication date.
Candidates for degrees granted May 2, 2014

Doctor of Musical Arts

Jonathan Patrick Caldwell, Field of Specialization: Conducting (Band).
Mihaela Culić, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Justyna Elżbieta Grudzińska, Field of Specialization: Music Performance.
Glen Thomas Rideout, Field of Specialization: Conducting (Choral).

Doctor of Philosophy

Elizabeth Janine Adams, Field of Specialization: Cellular and Molecular Biology. Dissertation: Defining the Roles of Mammalian COPH Components SEC24C and SEC24D.
Jose Francisco Alfaro, Field of Specialization: Natural Resources and Environment. Dissertation: Exploring the Emergence of Renewable Energy Grids in Developing Countries with Agent Based Models.
Thunyarat Amornpetchkul, Field of Specialization: Business Administration. Dissertation: Essays on Supply Chain Contracting and Retail Pricing.
Yanina V. Arnold, Field of Specialization: Slavic Language and Literature. Dissertation: Writing Justice: Fiction and Literary Lawyers in Late Imperial Russia, 1864–1900.
Graham Michael Atkin, Field of Specialization: Neuroscience. Dissertation: The Role of F-box Only Protein 2 (Fbxo2) in Amyloid Precursor Protein Processing and Synaptic Dynamics.
Soo Young Bae, Field of Specialization: Communication. Dissertation: From Encounters to Engagement—Examining Political Engagement in an Age of Social Media.

Erica Lynn Beck, Field of Specialization: Linguistics. Dissertation: The Role of Socio-indexical Information in Regional Accent Perception by Five to Seven Year Old Children.

Shauna Marie Bennett, Field of Specialization: Cellular and Molecular Biology. Dissertation: Intracellular Trafficking of BK Polyomavirus: From the ER to the Nucleus.

Joshua Matthew Carp, Field of Specialization: Psychology. Dissertation: Causes and Consequences of Dedifferentiation in the Aging Brain.

Christopher Michael Chou, Field of Specialization: Human Genetics. Dissertation: Mutations Involving \(RBP4\) and \(SOX3\) Underlie Two Novel Forms of Congenital Eye Malformations.

Emily Catherine Clader, Field of Specialization: Mathematics. Dissertation: The Landau-Ginzburg/Calabi-Yau Correspondence for Certain Complete Intersections.

Jennifer Marie Closson Torres, Field of Specialization: Sociology. Dissertation: Negotiating Care: The Role of Lactation Consultants and Doulas in the Medical Maternity System.

Anne Marie Compton, Field of Specialization: Anthropology. Dissertation: Shifting Trade Networks: Sub-Saharan to Atlantic Exchange in Central Ghana 1355–1725 CE.

Eugene Dariush Daneshvar, Field of Specialization: Biomedical Engineering. Dissertation: Conjugated Polymer Actuators for Articulating Neural Probes and Electrode Interfaces.

Carolyn Jennifer Dekker, Field of Specialization: English Language and Literature. Dissertation: Placing the Bomb: the Pastoral and the Sublime in the Nuclear Age.

Mahmoud El Azzouny, Field of Specialization: Chemistry. Dissertation: Development and Application of Metabolomics Techniques to Improve Understanding of Glucose and Fatty Acid Metabolism in \(\beta\)-cells and their Role in Insulin Secretion.

Steven John Engel, Field of Specialization: English and Education. Dissertation: In Your Own Words: Ideological Dilemmas in English Teachers’ Talk about Plagiarism.

Kelly Kay Ferguson, Field of Specialization: Environmental Health Sciences. Dissertation: Environmental Phthalate Exposure, Oxidative Stress, and Preterm Birth.

Katherine E. Fisher, Field of Specialization: English Language and Literature. Dissertation: Writing (in) the Spaces of the Blitz: Spatial Myths and Memory in Wartime British Literature.

Matthew Alan Franzi, Field of Specialization: Nuclear Engineering and Radiological Sciences. Dissertation: Relativistic Recirculating Planar Magnetrons.

Wenceng Ge, Field of Specialization: Chemistry. Dissertation: NMR-Based Metabolic Profiling: Methods and Application in Cancer Biomarker Discovery.

Sang Woo Han, Field of Specialization: Mechanical Engineering. Dissertation: Transport and Kinetic Phenomena Linked to Power Performance of Lithium-Ion Batteries.

Fredrick Earl Henry, Field of Specialization: Neuroscience. Dissertation: Novel Roles for mTORC1-Dependent Translational Control During Synaptic Homeostasis.

Jana Ariel Hirsch, Field of Specialization: Epidemiological Science. Dissertation: Change in the Built Environment and its Association with Change in Walking and Obesity in Middle Age and Older Adults.

Chelsea A. Huff, Field of Specialization: Chemistry. Dissertation: Cascade Hydrogenation of Carbon Dioxide to Methanol.
Doctor of Philosophy

Eunjoo Hwang, Field of Specialization: Kinesiology and Biomedical Engineering. Dissertation: A Finite Element Model of the Superior Glenoid Labrum.

Shyam Dilip Jade, Field of Specialization: Mechanical Engineering. Dissertation: Transient Load-Speed Control in Multi-Cylinder Recompression HCCI Engines.

Isaac Andrew Janson, Field of Specialization: Materials Science and Engineering. Dissertation: Investigating the Roles of Matrix Nanotopography and Elasticity in the Osteogenic Differentiation of Mesenchymal Stem Cells.

Bei Jiang, Field of Specialization: Biostatistics. Dissertation: Bayesian Joint Modeling of Longitudinal Trajectories and Health Outcome: A Broad Evaluation of Mean and Variation Features in Risk Profiles and Model Assessments.

Jae Hwan Jung, Field of Specialization: Macromolecular Science and Engineering. Dissertation: Synthesis and Characterization of Conjugated Silsesquioxanes (SQs) and their Beads on a chain (BoC) Polymers.

Michael Bruce Kane, Field of Specialization: Civil Engineering. Dissertation: Wirelessly Enabled Control of Cyber-Physical Infrastructure with Applications to Hydronic Systems.

Jacob Andrew Ketchum, Field of Specialization: Physics. Dissertation: Dynamics of Convergent Migration and Mean Motion Resonances in Planetary Systems.

Akiko Kochi, Field of Specialization: Chemistry. Dissertation: Development of Small Molecules to Target and Modulate Multiple Factors in the Neuropathogenesis of Alzheimer's Disease.

Kate Ryan Kuhlman, Field of Specialization: Psychology. Dissertation: Characterizing the Role of Different Childhood Trauma Subtypes in the Neuroendocrine Functioning of Youth: Implications for Adolescent Depression.

Hsun-Chih Kuo, Field of Specialization: Electrical Engineering. Dissertation: Vertically Aligned (In)GaN Nanowires Grown by MOCVD.

Jamila L. Kwarteng, Field of Specialization: Health Behavior and Health Education. Dissertation: Contributions of the Social Environment to Central Adiposity: Results from Etiologic and Intervention Studies.

Sarah Elizabeth Lang, Field of Specialization: Cellular and Molecular Biology. Dissertation: Functional Modulation and Adaptive Responses to PKC Targets on Cardiac Troponin I.

David Shicheng Li, Field of Specialization: Biomedical Engineering. Dissertation: Bubble Dynamics and Acoustic Droplet Vaporization in Gas Embolotherapy.

David Chia-Wei Liaw, Field of Specialization: Electrical Engineering. Dissertation: Alternative Neutralization Techniques for In-Space Charged Particle Thrusters and Electrodynamic Tethers.
Doctor of Philosophy

Lin Ma, Field of Specialization: Economics. Dissertation: Three Essays in International Trade and Macroeconomics.

David C. Marvin, Field of Specialization: Ecology and Evolutionary Biology. Dissertation: Disentangling the mechanisms and uncovering the scale of increasing liana size and abundance in neotropical forests.

Alexandra Leigh McCubbrey, Field of Specialization: Immunology. Dissertation: Negative regulation and immune effects of apoptotic cell clearance in the lung: SIRPα and miR34a.

Catherine A. Meldrum, Field of Specialization: Nursing. Dissertation: Association of Frailty Indicators and Health Care Related Outcomes In Severe Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease.

Massy Mutumba, Field of Specialization: Health Behavior and Health Education. Dissertation: Psychological Distress and Adherence to Anti-retro Viral Treatment among HIV-infected Adolescents in Uganda.

Muna Samsun Nahar, Field of Specialization: Toxicology. Dissertation: Human Bisphenol a Biomonitoring and Biotransformation Programming in the Developing Fetus.

Solymar Negretti-Emmanuelli, Field of Specialization: Medicinal Chemistry. Dissertation: Developing a Bacterial P450 as a General and Regioselective Catalyst for C-H Bond Oxidation.

Lauretta Ovadje, Field of Specialization: Environmental Health Sciences. Dissertation: Adherence to the Use of Insecticide-Treated Bed Nets by Nigerian Children.

Doctor of Philosophy

Isha B. Patel, Field of Specialization: Social and Administrative Sciences. Dissertation: Medication use and Healthcare Outcomes in Developmentally Disabled Medicaid Adults with Type 2 Diabetes: a Quantitative Race Based Analysis.

Bryan Christopher Petersen, Field of Specialization: Molecular and Cellular Pathology. Dissertation: The Role of IL-25 in Innate Cytokine Production and Pulmonary Immunopathology.

Sukhoon Pyo, Field of Specialization: Civil Engineering. Dissertation: Characteristics of Ultra High Performance Concrete Subjected to Dynamic Loading.

Shanna Lee Resendez, Field of Specialization: Neuroscience. Dissertation: Opioid Regulation of Pair Bonding in the Socially Monogamous Prairie Vole.

Lee Sam, Field of Specialization: Bioinformatics. Dissertation: Integrative Bioinformatics in the Age of Massive Throughput Sequencing: From the Transcriptome to the Proteome in Prostate Cancer.

Doctor of Philosophy

Donel Angelo Sequea, Field of Specialization: Molecular and Integrative Physiology. Dissertation: Mechanics for Calorie Restriction Effects on Insulin-stimulated Glucose Uptake by Rat Skeletal Muscle.

Hailu Shitaye, Field of Specialization: Cellular and Molecular Biology. Dissertation: Regulation of Mesenchymal Progenitor Proliferation and Differentiation by Thrombospondin-2 and Notch Signaling.

Seyit Ahmet Sis, Field of Specialization: Electrical Engineering. Dissertation: Ferroelectric-on-Silicon Switchable Bulk Acoustic Wave Resonators and Filters for RF Applications.

Viticia Amanitu Thames, Field of Specialization: Educational Studies. Dissertation: Distributed Instruction as a Grounded Theory Approach to Detecting a Relationship Between Distributed Leadership and Instruction.
Doctor of Philosophy

Thu Ha Truong, Field of Specialization: Chemistry. Dissertation: Probing the Role of Sulfenylation in Redox Regulation of Protein Kinases.

Mallory Anne van Dongen, Field of Specialization: Chemistry. Dissertation: PAMAM Dendrimer as Quantized Building Blocks for Biomedical Applications.

Crystal L. VanKooten, Field of Specialization: English and Education. Dissertation: Developing Meta-Awareness about Composition through New Media in the First-Year Writing Classroom.

Christopher Paul Walczak, Field of Specialization: Cellular and Molecular Biology. Dissertation: Oxidoreductase and Chaperone Activities Co-opted by the Nonenveloped Polyomaviruses during Entry.

Erin Bakshis Ware, Field of Specialization: Epidemiological Science. Dissertation: Genes, the Environment, and Depressive Symptom Scores in the Multi-Ethnic Study of Atherosclerosis.

Kathryn Karen Will, Field of Specialization: English Language and Literature. Dissertation: Cultivating Heraldic Histories in Early Modern English Literature.

Michael L. Williams, Field of Specialization: Nursing. Dissertation: Coping and Psychological Distress of Family Members of Adult Cardiac Surgery Patients in the ICU and Prior to Discharge.

Alice Pelczar Wright, Field of Specialization: Anthropology. Dissertation: Inscribing Interaction: Middle Woodland Monumentality in the Appalachian Summit, 100 BC–AD 400.

Yongsu Yang, Field of Specialization: Physics. Dissertation: Synchrotron X-ray Diffraction Studies on Oxide Surfaces and Interfaces.

Hyung Ki Yoon, Field of Specialization: Chemistry. Dissertation: Multifunctional Nanoplateforms for Biomedical Imaging and Photodynamic Therapy.

Joseph Zackular, Field of Specialization: Microbiology and Immunology. Dissertation: Characterizing the Role of the Gut Microbiome in Colorectal Cancer.

Xiaowei Zhan, Field of Specialization: Biostatistics. Dissertation: Statistical Methods and Analysis in Next Generation Sequencing.

Feng Zhao, Field of Specialization: Biomedical Engineering. Dissertation: Methods for MRI RF Pulse Design and Image Reconstruction.

Statement on Freedom of Speech and Artistic Expression

Thank you for attending this program. The University of Michigan strives to create a truly open forum, one in which diverse opinions can be expressed and heard.

It is the right of members of the University community, speakers, artists, and other invited guests to express their views and opinions at the University. We will protect the right of individuals to speak or perform, and the rights of those members of the University community who wish to hear and communicate with an invited speaker or artist.

Protestors also have a right to express their opposition to a speaker in appropriate ways, both within the confines of this building and outside the facility. However, protestors must not interfere unduly with communication between a speaker or artist and members of the audience.

If the hosts of this event or University representatives believe that protestors are interfering unduly with a speaker or performer's freedom of expression, those protestors will be warned. If the warnings are not heeded and the interference continues, then the individuals responsible may be removed from the building.

We reaffirm these policies in order to most fully protect the rights of free expression for speakers, performers, and protestors alike, as set forth by our Civil Liberties Board in our Student Handbook, in accordance with the U-M Standard Practice Guide; Regents’ Ordinance Article XII, Section 1; and state statutes.

Nondiscrimination Policy Statement

The University of Michigan, as an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination and affirmative action. The University of Michigan is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all persons and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, religion, height, weight, or veteran status in employment, educational programs and activities, and admissions. Inquiries or complaints may be addressed to the Senior Director for Institutional Equity, and Title IX/Section 504/ADA Coordinator, Office of Institutional Equity, 2072 Administrative Services Building, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48109-1432, 734-763-0235, TTY 734-647-1388. For other University of Michigan information call 734-764-1817.

This book is printed with vegetable-based ink on paper stock that is certified to the Sustainable Forestry Initiative® Certified Sourcing Standard.

Entry to the field is for commencement staff only. At the end of the ceremony, graduates and then families will be directed to exit up the aisles and to the north and south ends of the stadium. Graduates and families are asked to meet at the north or south end of the stadium after exiting the stands.

#MGoGrad
Dear Graduate:

On behalf of the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan, congratulations on your momentous achievement.

You may be leaving the University of Michigan, but the ties that bind alumni—across the miles and the years—are strong and enduring. Whether you are on the other side of the country or the other side of the world, you are part of something greater than yourself. You are now part of a community of more than 535,000 Michigan alumni in 180 countries across the globe.

The Alumni Association is your connection to U-M. As a graduation gift, we give you a complimentary one-year membership to help you maintain the bonds you’ve created over the course of your time on campus. Use it to remind yourself of the place that you hail from, the place that has shaped you into the person you are today. Visit umalumni.com to keep the spirit of U-M close and connect to the powerful global network of U-M alumni.

So as you toss your mortarboard and venture out into the world, celebrate all that you have achieved and remember that you are never far from the University of Michigan.

Again, our congratulations and very best wishes for your future.

Sincerely,

Janey Lack, ’62
Chair of the Board of Directors
Alumni Association of the University of Michigan

Steve Grafton
President and CEO
Alumni Association of the University of Michigan

For those who leave Michigan, but for whom Michigan never leaves, this is where you belong.
The Yellow and Blue

Sing to the colors that float in the light;
    Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!
Yellow the stars as they ride thro’ the night,
    And reel in a rollicking crew;
Yellow the fields where ripens the grain,
    And Yellow the moon on the harvest wain;
Hail!
Hail to the colors that float in the light;
    Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!

The Victors

Hail! to the victors valiant,
    Hail! to the conqu’ring heroes,
    Hail! Hail! to Michigan
    the leaders and best.
Hail! to the victors valiant,
    Hail! to the conqu’ring heroes,
    Hail! Hail! to Michigan
    the champions of the West.
